SECOND GLANCE

At first glance it would appear this fellow is deep in weighty thought. A second glance, however, makes one think perhaps the sign above the man's head better explains what's on his mind. After all, it's a thought shared by many on Monday mornings.

Garbagemen Linked To Burglaries

Two young garbagemen, one of them the son of the garbage company owner, were arrested during the weekend in connection with a series of burglaries in the Tamalpais Valley and Stinson Beach areas.

Booked into Marin County Jail Friday night was Richard Warren Lacaze, 20, of Stinson Beach. He is the son of June Lacaze, a widow who operates Henry's Service providing garbage pickup for Tamalpais Valley, Muir Beach, Stinson Beach and Bolinas.

Another youth, Dennis Michael Murphy, 22, also of Stinson Beach, was arrested Saturday morning. Both were booked on suspicion of burglary and receiving stolen property.

Their arrests culminated an investigation by sheriff's officers. It began when an informant told officers he thought he knew how recent burglaries in Southern Marin and the beach areas were being done.

Inspector Harry Bock said he went to Lacaze's house Friday night after getting a search warrant. There, he said he found a stereo amplifier stolen last December from a Seadrift residence.

Hidden in a rowboat in the rafters of a warehouse on the Lacaze property, was a disassembled Norton Motorcycle taken from a Tamalpais Valley resident, Bock said.

Bock said he also found two sleeping bags taken in the burglary of another Seadrift residence.

A search of Murphy's house Saturday morning turned up skis taken from a Tamalpais Valley house, bock said.

Bock said he is seeking warrants for two other persons in connection with these and other burglaries as well as petty thefts in the Stinson Beach area.

Bock said that Murphy and Lacaze apparently spotted articles they wanted in people's houses while they were on their garbage rounds. They also made use of information given them about residents who were away from home for extended periods of time, Bock said.

Mrs. Lacaze, apparently concerned she would be short of garbagemen Saturday at first planned to post bail for her son, Bock said. However, he remained in jail in lieu of $12,500 bail.

Murphy's bail was $7,500 both were to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

FLORIDA PRIMARY

Jackson, HHH: 'We're No. 2'

MIAMI (UPI) — Hubert H. Humphrey and Henry M. Jackson both assigned Edmund S. Muskie to no better than a third-place finish in Tuesday's presidential primary, vital to Muskie's self portrait as the nation's most electable Democrat.

But even they conceded that George Wallace would emerge as the winner.

Campaigning in Wallace country —the port city of Jacksonville in Northern Florida — Humphrey contended that he has now passed Muskie and is likely to finish second, behind Wallace.

Jackson disputed that view of the results. At a news conference in Tampa, he, too, claimed to have displaced Muskie.

"We have come up very fast and it is rather difficult to really know where I fit in in the Muskie-Humphrey lineup, but I think I have passed Muskie and maybe have passed Hubert Humphrey too," Jackson said.

Humphrey's campaign workers took him to a Jacksonville park, where most of the hands he shook belonged to supporters of John V. Lindsay.

Humphrey laughed when Mayor Charles Evers of Fayette, Miss., the first black mayor in a bi-racial Mississippi town, tried to pin a Lindsay button on him.

Muskie ignored his challengers except for Wallace, who he called a "worn-out demagogue" to the cheers of 250 retired people and chanting youngsters at an apartment complex for senior citizens in Orlando in central Florida.

A group of children waving banners provided a backdrop. "Here comes Ed Muskie," they chanted. "Look out Nixon, here comes Ed."

Lindsay, vying with George McGovern for the votes of the Democratic left, accused Muskie, Humphrey and McGovern of deciding as "a matter of strategy" to compromise in the Senate on the issue of busing—the dominant issue in this campaign.

"When all decent candidates should have been standing together against the politics of hate and fear," Lindsay told a news conference in Miami, "some of them hid and some of them hedged."

Lindsay and McGovern accused each other of taking "cheap shots" Sunday night.

McGovern sharply accused Lindsay of trying to woo his black campaign workers with promises of greater gold. Lindsay, in radio spots, newspaper ads, and talks to reporters, charged the South Dakota senator with caving in to Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace on the school busing issue.

Generally acknowledged as the two candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination most attractive to liberal voters, McGovern and Lindsay gently went at each other on an hour-long television program Sunday and as soon as it was over unfurled serious accusations out of each other's earshot.

As Lindsay and McGovern battled, major candidates in the 10-man, one-woman race for first place in Florida's primary and a share of the 81 delegates at the Democratic National Convention in July scoured the state with last-minute appeals for votes.

Wallace still was considered the favorite to win the primary with Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and Edmund S. Muskie locked in a near dead-heat for second, and Sen. Henry M. Jackson trailing.

McGovern and Lindsay were in a race by themselves, not for first place but for the biggest share of the liberal bloc in a basically conservative state.

Among the latest developments in the Florida primary:

—Finally yielding to immense pressure, Muskie said he would make public the contributors to his presidential campaign within 10 days. Wallace said he, too, would make a public disclosure but Jackson refused, calling it an election eve gimmick. Lindsay and McGovern already

One U.S. Primary: Mansfield

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today that the drawn-out political extravaganza of the state-by-state presidential primaries should be replaced by a single nationwide primary.

On the eve of the Florida primary —the second of 25 such elections scheduled this year — Mansfield readied for introduction a proposed constitutional amendment to create a national primary, Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., joined the Montanan in the proposal.

"What is happening in Florida today gives one cause to suggest that the winter headquarters of Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey have failed to close on schedule this year..." Mansfield said in a speech prepared for introduction of his plan.

"For the good of this nation and for the preservation of its democratic processes ... it is high time that we end these drawn-out political extravaganzas and institute a national presidential primary," he said.

On the day of the New Hampshire primary last week, Mansfield denounced state primaries as useless and worthless and promised to introduce a constitutional amendment to abolish them. On Saturday, he told reporters he has been "fed up for years with these circuses."

"They are too hard on the candidates and take money away from the parties which could be better used — particularly by the Democratic party —to retire our debt and finance our candidates this summer and fall," he said.

Mansfield and Aiken—the dean of Senate Republicans—have sponsored nationwide primary plans together in the past. Similar proposals, including one sponsored by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, are pending but stalled.

The Mansfield-Aiken plan envisions a single nationwide primary to be held in early August each presidential election year. Each party would select its nominee for President from a field of candidates who would qualify for the ballot by filing petitions signed by a set percentage of voters nationwide.

There would be a runoff election 23 days after the primary between the top two finishers if no candidate won at least 40 per cent of a party's vote. Vice presidential candidates would be chosen by national party conventions.

The amendment proposal would have to be approved by a two-thirds majority in each house of Congress and then ratified by at least three-fourths of the states to become effective.

Mansfield said the "mish-mash" of state primary laws means "there will be no results" once the elections are over this year since the field and circumstances are different in each contest. And, he said, the sharp jump in the number of such elections —25 this year compared with 14 in 1963 —only makes things worse.

"Let's face it," he said. "Primaries have become big business —as nearly as important to the coffers of some states as tourism, agriculture, heavy industry or whatever."

Irving And Wife Plead Guilty To Book Conspiracy

Sentencing Date Set For June In Hughes Autobiography Hoax

NEW YORK (UPI) — Clifford and Edith Irving pleaded guilty today to a federal conspiracy charge and local charges of larceny and conspiracy for their roles in the greatest literary hoax in modern times.

Author-researcher Richard Suskind, who was named a coconspirator but not a defendant in the federal case involving the trio's bogus autobiography of billionaire Howard Hughes, pleaded guilty to the two local charges, part of a 16-count indictment handed up by a New York County grand jury last week.

The federal charge of conspiring to defraud the McGraw-Hill Publishing Company of more than $700,000, to which the Irvings pleaded guilty, carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The county charge of larceny in the 2nd degree carries a maximum seven year prison term while the conpiracy charge carries a term of one year.

Sentencing in both the federal and local cases was set for June 16.

The government dropped the second charge — mail fraud — in the two-count federal grand jury indictment because of the Irvings' cooperation in the investigation, assistant U.S. Attorney Robert Morvillo said.

The Irvings were continued (on personal recognizance bonds of $100,000 for Irving and $250,000 for his wife.)

Irving told newsmen "I don't really believe it's over yet."

He refused further comment saying, "What we have to say we will be saying to the probation officer and not to the press."

All three were indicted by a Manhattan grand jury last week on charges of conspiracy, grand larceny and possession of forged instruments. Irving and Suskind were also indicted on perjury charges.

A federal grand jury indicted the Irvings last week on mail fraud and conspiracy charges. Suskind was listed as a coconspirator but not a defendant in the federal indictment.

The charges carried maximum penalties of about 100 years in prison and thousands of dollars in fines.

The indictments said the book was a fraud written in the belief that Hughes was "either deceased or not of sufficient mental or physical capacity to denounce it." The billionaire industrialist had not appeared in public for 15 years.

Irving received $765,000 from McGraw-Hill Book Co. for the book, the indictments said. Hughes was supposed to get $650,000. But Irving has admitted his blonde, German-born wife posed as "Helga R. Hughes", cashed those checks at one Swiss Bank and deposited the money in another one.

She faces Swiss charges of forgery and larceny. A hearing on a Swiss request for extradition is scheduled later this month.

Irving, who wrote the book, kept about $700,000 and gave about $65,000 to Suskind, who had helped in the research, according to the indictments.

Irving had claimed to have had more than 100 interviews with Hughes at various places in the southern United States, Mexico and the Caribbean. He produced tapes he said were made during the interviews.

The grand juries charged that Irving and Suskind made the tapes, taking turns playing the part of Hughes.

McGraw-Hill announced Dec. 7 that it would publish the autobiography by Irving. But on Jan. 7 Hughes told seven newsmen in a telephone interview that he had never heard of Irving and the book was "fiction."

The federal indictment said Irving and Suskind "formulated the scheme to defraud McGraw-Hill" in December, 1970, and January, 1971.

They obtained some of the information for the book from newspapers, magazines, libraries, government records and an unpublished manuscript on Hughes, the indictment said. But the rest "was fictionalized and composed by Irving and Suskind from their imaginations," it said.

U.S., China Hold 1st Session In Paris

PARIS (UPI)—U.S. Ambassador Arthur K. Watson met for the first time with Chinese Ambassador Huang Chen Monday to continue the Sino-American contacts established by President Nixon's trip to China.

Watson said afterward he opened the contact with Huang on Nixon's orders and that he hoped the meeting would be the first of many.

"I had my first meeting with the Chinese ambassador this morning and was received very warmly. We had a very friendly discussion which we hoped will be the beginning of many," Watson told newsmen after the 50-minute session in the Chinese Embassy.

Watson said he and Huang made no formal arrangements for regular meetings and that he was awaiting instructions for the date of a next meeting.

Following their meeting, Watson and Huang came down a staircase at the embassy together to greet newsmen.

"Conforming to the joint Sino-American communique, the Chinese and American parties have agreed on Paris as a channel to maintain contacts between the two parties. Today I met Ambassador Watson and in this way I am beginning the contacts," said Huang.

Neither Huang nor Watson would comment on the subjects discussed during their meeting. Watson said, however, that the meeting was convened at his own invitation and that a next meeting would depend on an invitation from Huang.

Watson returned from Washington Saturday after consulting with Nixon, foreign affairs advisor Henry A. Kissinger, and Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

When asked why he had met with Huang so soon after his return from the United States, Watson said, "I was merely acting on orders of the President of the United States to make contact as soon as possible."

Watson, wearing a blue pinstriped suit, said he and Huang spoke in French and Chinese in the presence of a Chinese interpreter and another assistant.

Watson said the Paris meeting was a direct result of Nixon's visit to Peking last month.

The meeting Monday was the first between regular diplomatic representatives of both countries since 1970. U.S. and Chinese representatives met periodically in Warsaw from 1957 until 1970, when the talks were abruptly cut off in reaction to the U.S. and South Vietnamese invasion of Cambodia.

Bill For Women Probate Rights

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill giving women the same rights as men in probate matters has been proposed by Assemblyman Henry W. Waxman, D-Los Angeles.

Waxman said Sunday current law requires that when a woman dies, community property which is to be transferred to her husband does not go through probate. But he noted when a husband dies, his community property bequeathed to his wife must go through probate and incur all the costs of such proceedings.

Sabin Released Following Surgery

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Dr. Albert E. Sabin, developer of the oral polio vaccine, was released Monday from the Cleveland Clinic where he recently underwent open heart surgery.

Sabin, 63, who is now president of the Weizmann Institute in Israel, was operated on Feb. 29 for an obstruction of the left descending artery. A vein from his leg was implanted in place of the major artery.

Key Witness Against 7 Admits Lies

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI)—Boyd F. Douglas Jr., the key government witness against the Harrisburg Seven, testified today that he lied extensively to obtain evidence against the antiwar activists but would not lie to convict them.

Going into his fifth day of cross-examination, the convicted con man and bank defrauder, testified that he did not expect to receive a reward for his informant services to the FBI. He has asked the FBI for $50,000 tax free during the time he was pretending to be a member of the activist group in 1970, but had been turned down and was paid only expenses.

Under questioning by the Rev. William C. Cunningham, a Chicago Jesuit priest who is a defense attorney in the Federal Court trial, Douglas admitted lying to the Rev. Philip F. Berrigan and other defendants as well as their associates. He had admitted in previous testimony to lying occasionally to the FBI.

"Isn't it really necessary for a double agent to do that—isn't that what a double agent is all about?" the attorney asked.

"I would say when you're working undercover — yes," Douglas replied.

"Would you lie to convict them?"

"I would not," Douglas replied.

"What would be the difference then, between prosecuting them and convicting them?" Cunningham asked.

Judge R. Dixon Herman sustained an objection to that question.

In an often shouting session of further cross-examination by defense attorney Leonard Boudin, Douglas detailed how he pulled a Beretta automatic hand gun on Oct. 7, 1966, when accosted by a Secret Service agent while attempting to cash a phony check in the First Wisconsin National Bank at Milwaukee.

Douglas insisted that he drew the gun because "I was scared —I had no intention of shooting anyone."

He conceded that he kept the gun in hand while running down the street with the agent in pursuit, but he said he only did that to frighten anyone who might interfere with his running. He said the gun was loaded but that it did not have a bullet in the firing chamber.

He was arrested at that time and sent back for a second hitch at Lewisburg Federal

Dead Whale Towed From Marin Beach

Residents of Stinson Beach and the Sea Drift beach area got a welcome breath of fresh air yesterday after the Coast Guard towed away the rotting carcass of a 36-foot gray whale, which had washed up on shore Saturday.

The whale had previously been towed to sea Friday by the Coast Guard.

"It was the same whale," said Stinson Beach Fire Chief George T. White. "There were tow marks on the tail and a piece of line attached."

Government officials said it would be blown up with dynamite by a Navy demolition team. A Navy helicopter with two Navy demolition experts surveyed the scene this morning. It is expected that the corpse will be destroyed tomorrow morning.

"Residents knew where it was, even with their eyes closed," said White.

The tale began Friday when the carcass was first spotted floating between Alcatraz and Yerba Buena islands. The Coast Guard was summoned to tow it out of the bay. Ten miles out to sea, it was cut loose.

Friday night, the remains washed up on Sea Drift Beach. Once again, the Coast Guard was notified and a cutter was dispatched. Rescue duty for a series of capsized boats, however, delayed the cutter en route.

The Coast Guard sent an overland trailer towing an outboard motor boat to the beach.

An anchor line was attached to the whale but the motorboat could not buck the strong tide. A larger boat was sent to the beach. At about 9:15 a.m. yesterday, with a favorable tide, the whale was dragged out toward the Farallone Islands.

Troops Mass Along No. Yemen Border

ADEN, Southern Yemen (UPI)—Northern Yemen has massed troops and tribesmen and restricted commercial traffic along its border with Southern Yemen, travelers said Monday.

The two Yemens, at the bottom of the Arabian peninsula, have accused each other of shelling border villages and bringing the area to the brink of war.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Bodies Found

TOKYO (UPI) — Police today unearthed bodies of three more young persons from frozen mountainside gravesites, bringing to 12 the number of Japanese radical revolutionaries tortured and slain for opposing their leaders.

Police said the discovery brought to an end their search for the remains of 12 young people killed on orders of a young college dropout because they weakened in their support of his revolution.

The latest finds were those of two young men and a young woman. They were buried in two crude graves near the foot of Mount Haruna, about 50 miles northwest of Tokyo in Gunma Prefecture state.

Robots On Mars

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union will use "robot biologists" to begin the search for life on Mars but it will finish the job with human explorers, according to a Soviet scientist.

"The time will come when automatic microbiological laboratories will appear on the surface of Mars," space engineer A. Trofimov wrote in Sunday's edition of the newspaper, Lenin's Banner.

"Robot biologists will seek to answer the question whether life exists on Mars."

Trofimov said final answers might depend upon "phenomena beyond contemporary knowledge" and hence beyond the analytical capacities of the mobile robots.

"The last word in the dispute about life on Mars will remain with man, who sooner or later will walk on the surface of the Red Planet," he said.

Militant Appeal

DENVER (UPI) — The leader of an organization representing 36,000 Roman Catholic priests appealed to members Sunday to become involved with social issues and not to leave everything up to militant clergymen like the Berrigan brothers and the Rev. James Groppi.

"The time for these men is not over," said the Rev. Frank Bonnike, president of the National Federation of Priests' Councils. "But it is time now for ordinary priests the world over to take up these causes instead of leaving them to the Groppis and the Berrigans."

Groppi, the controversial civil rights champion from Milwaukee, was among those expected to attend the fifth annual convention of the council in Denver this week.

The theme of the convention, which runs through Friday, was "ministry for justice and peace —an imperative for priests — USA."

Peseta Revalued

MADRID (UPI) — Spain today revalued the peseta, increasing its value by 2.2 per cent against the dollar.

The Bank of Spain announced that it would allow the peseta to fluctuate from 64.47 to 64.41 to the dollar, compared to the earlier price of 65.92 to 65.86.

The peseta's parity with other currencies remained unchanged.

Truce Broken

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Gunmen broke a three-day truce Sunday, opening fire on a passing British army patrol and killing a 24-year-old mother who happened to be passing by.

No soldiers were wounded and an army spokesman said they did not return the fire.

The dead woman was identified as Bernadette Hyndman, the mother of a 1-year-old girl. She was on her way home from church and had just stopped in at the corner grocery to buy a bottle of milk.

Four Caught In Wiebe Kidnaping

VISALIA, Calif. (UPI)—Four persons suspected of kidnaping the daughter of a wealthy central California auto dealer and then muffing the pickup of $300,000 ransom, have been arrested.

The girl, Michelle Wiebe, was abducted from her home last Monday night, missed her ninth birthday celebration Tuesday, and was released unharmed 30 hours later.

Four suspects were picked up Friday night and Saturday.

"I think Tuesday will be the earliest they can be arraigned," Sheriff's Sgt. Harold Goeringer said Sunday.

Arrested were Robert C. Highfield, 35, owner of a coin-operated dry cleaners, Leslie Hughes, 20, manager of the cleaners, and David T. Fox, 19, a laborer. A spokesman at the county jail said bail was set only for Highfield and it was $20,000.

The fourth suspect, an unnamed juvenile, was placed in the Juvenile Hall to await court proceedings.

U.S. Criticized

NEW DELHI (UPI) — President V.V. Giri today criticized the U.S. government but said India hoped that relations between the two countries would not deteriorate further. He also praised the Soviet Union for "setting the seal on a friendship that has been tested by time."

In a "state of the nation" address to the opening meeting of parliament's budget session, Giri said "there was great disappointment in our country at the lack of sympathy displayed by the government of the United States towards the struggle of the people of Bangladesh for their democratic rights and fundamental freedom.

Violence Curb

PINE RIDGE, S.D. (UPI) — Indian leaders did "an excellent job" in curbing violence during demonstrations last week to protest the death of one Indian and alleged discrimination and brutality against Indians in South Dakota and Nebraska, the superintendent of the Pine Ridge reservation said Sunday.

The Indians said they hoped to amass 10,000 demonstrators during the week for continuing protests on the reservation.

A "Pow Wow" was called by the newly formed American Indian Movement and was a continuance of protests made by the Indians last week in the two states.

No Viet Deals

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the deposed Cambodian chief of state, says Chinese Premier Chou En-lai has assured the North Vietnamese that no secret deals on Vietnam were made with President Nixon, Time magazine reported Sunday.

Sihanouk, who fled to Peking after he was deposed, also said Chou told Nixon the prestige of the French grew when they withdrew from Algeria. That was a possible hint on how the United States might settle the war in Vietnam.

"Chou reassured Sihanouk and the Vietnamese that no secret deals had been made in Peking, and added that he had told Nixon the Chinese had not been appointed by Hanoi to settle the war," Time said.

Black Convention Condemns Busing

GARY, Ind. (UPI)—The first National Black Political Convention ended its historic threeday meeting Sunday by adopting a resolution which condemned school busing as "a bankrupt, suicidal method" of integration.

The total agenda for political, social and economic action adopted by the 3,456 delegates was so militant that it seemed a certainty no white presidential candidate could support it.

The agenda was adopted after a stormy session that included a bomb scare which forced evacuation of delegates from the West Side High School gymnasium for 25 minutes; and a walkout by a majority of the Michigan delegates who wanted to delay a vote for up to 90 days.

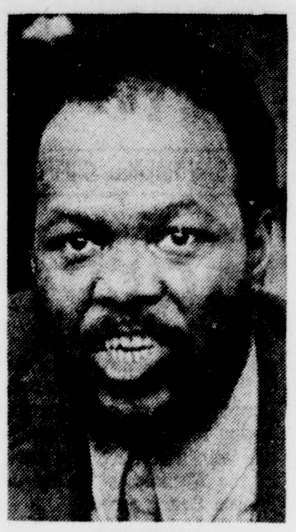

The convention voted not to endorse any candidate for president, thus avoiding a showdown on whether to support black Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., who seeks the Democratic nomination.

Manhattan Brough President Percy Sutton had endorsed Mrs. Chisholm and called on the convention to do likewise.

A controversial antibusing resolution, sponsored by Roy Innis of the Congress of Racial Equality, was adopted.

"Busing is obsolete and dangerous to black people. We are ready to control our own destiny," the resolution said.

"We condemn racial integration of schools as a bankrupt, suicidal method...based on the false notion that black children are unable to learn unless they are in the same setting as white children," the resolution said in part."...We demand quality education in the black commmunity." The agenda included a wide range of demands including the establishment of black congressional representation in proportion to blacks in the national population. It also called for local control over police and the residency requirements for all neighborhood police forces.

The 12 page document included the controversial preamble called "The Gary Declaration: Black Politics at the Crossroads."

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said tha preamble was "rooted in the concept of separate nationhood for black Americans" and unacceptable to the NAACP.

Other demands included:

—The establishment of free public education through college for all black people.

—Proportionate black employment and control at every level of the federal government structure.

—Government guarantee of a minimum annual income of $6,500.

—A presidential commission, with a majority of black members, to determine a procedure for calculating an appropriate reparations payment in terms of land, capital and cash to the black community.

The convention also voted to make May 27 Liberation Day and to hold the next convention in Philadelphia.

Parallels Program Planned In Ross

A program of the Marin Society of Artists entitled, "Parallels in Art and Music" will be presented at 4 p.m. Sunday by San Francisco artist Al Cunningham at the Frances Young Gallery in Ross.

Cunningham has exhibited his work at the De Young Museum, San Francisco Museum, Artist's Cooperative and several Los Angeles galleries.

Key Red Stronghold Captured

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese tanks and infantrymen today captured the key Communist stronghold of Kampong Trach in the fourth day of a major drive into Cambodia, front dispatches reported. The big push was backed by U.S. Army helicopters and Air Force bombers.

A total of four South Vietnamese columns with nearly 50,000 men were advancing along a 150-mile front in eastern Cambodia in an attempt to stop a reported guerrilla plan to attack Saigon.

The U.S. Command said army helicopter "hunter-killer" teams have joined Air Force bombers in support of the fourpronged Vietnamese operation. The helicopter force was made up of about 200 men and 25 helicopters, assigned the dangerous job of flying search-and destroy missions at treetop level in advance of the South Vietnamese forces.

The command said B52s and F4 Phantom jet fighter-bombers were battering suspected guerrilla troops and supply routes in the region. American ground troops were staying on the sidelines, and the nearest U.S. Infantry and artillery units were in the jungles around Saigon, 35 miles from the Cambodian border.

UPI photographer Willie Vicot, with one of the Cambodian armored columns, said a force of 5,000 South Vietnamese troops supported by 100 tanks and armored personnel carriers (APCS) met only light opposition as they occupied Kampong Tranch, reported to be a Communist stronghold six miles inside Cambodia's Parrot Beak section.

Deck, Tapes Stolen

Michael Ritter, 1254 Lindberg Lane, Petaluma, told police that a stereo tape deck and eight tapes valued at $188 were stolen from his car yesterday while parked at his home.

Rep. Ford Attacks ITT Case Hearsay

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford today accused columnist Jack Anderson of employing hearsay and gimmickry in his allegations that the administration made antitrust concessions to International Telephone and Telegraph (ITT).

Ford made the attack as the Senate Judiciary Committee prepared to continue its investigation of the case Tuesday by questioning John N. Mitchell, who was attorney general at the time the ITT matter was settled.

"...Anderson is to be condemned for dragging the name of the President of the United States before the Senate Judiciary Committee on the basis of evidence which is so unreliable that it would be barred from every court of law in the nation," Ford said.

"Mr. Anderson has used the universally discredited technique of multiple hearsay to substantiate his charges, a gimmick which involves a presentation of evidence three or four times removed from the source," said Ford, of Michigan. "Were Mr. Anderson required to produce substantive evidence of probative value in the ITT case, he would surely be unable to do so. With but multiple hearsay evidence, Jack Anderson is a man without a case."

The confirmation of Mitchell's successor, acting Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst, has been sidetracked by the controversy surrounding the ITT case. Kleindienst headed the Justice Department's antitrust division at the time it made an out-of-court settlement with ITT —a conglomerate which Anderson alleges had agreed to contribute $400,000 to the GOP National Convention this summer in San Diego.

In another development, ITT lobbyist Dita D. Beard, whose memo on the antitrust matter in Anderson's hands touched off the flap, was reported recovering in a Denver hospital where she may be able to meet with members of the judiciary panel by about midweek, according to her doctors. She has been confined since March 3, suffering from a heart ailment.

Sen. Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky., a member of the Judiciary Committee, meanwhile accused Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., also on the panel, of engaging in "a political conspiracy ... to discredit government officials."

Cook asked for an executive session of the committee "to examine the nature and extent of the improprieties."

Cook cited this "irregularity" on Kennedy's part:

"On Thursday of (last) week, Mr. Anderson's assistant, Mr. Britt Hume, was asked by this committee to produce a copy of the memorandum of interview conversations he had with Mrs. Dita Beard ... Mr. Hume refused to produce them, arguing that his notes as a journalist were privileged information and, thus, not accessible to the committee. On the very neyt day Mr. Hume admitted under oath that despite his refusal to produce the notes for the committee, he had previously made the documents available to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and others. At no time did Senator Kennedy make the information given to his office available to other members of the committee, nor even inform them of his possession of the same."

3 Daughters Have Birthdays

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Three of Lawrence Buchanan's four daughters blew out the candles Sunday to celebrate their 40th, 38th and 33rd birthdays.

Jean, now Mrs. Jim Matthews of Beaverton, was born March 12, 1932; Joyce, now Mrs. Don Kaiser of Portland, was born March 12, 1934, and Mary, now Mrs. Ron Maes of Boring, was born March 12, 1939.

Sonoma Voters Seek Water Plan Rejection

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County voters have been urged by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, to vote to repeal $115 million in bonds to finance county water projects.

"A resounding victory for water conservation here," he declared, "will help turn the tide against unlimited water development in California."

Behr spoke Saturday night at the annual dinner of the Redwood Chapter of the Sierra Club at the Holiday Inn.

The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors agreed last week to put the measure on the June 6 ballot after the Sonoma Coalition gathered 10,510 valid signatures on petitions to force the issue to a vote. The supervisors had approved the bond issue in December, 1970, to finance county water needs through this century.

The Sonoma Coalition challenged the bonds, claiming the increased supply of water would be an open invitation for overdevelopment and overpopulation of the county.

Behr, author of legislation to preserve North Coast rivers, also called for disbanding the Eel River Water Council, which he branded as "the Northern California front for the Southern California water lobby."

Citing the council's advocacy of dam projects on North Coast rivers, Behr said "it has ceased to represent us. It has lost sight of its original objectives; to conserve North Coast water and to provide flood protection."

The senator proposed its replacement with a new organization reflecting "the will of the majority of North Coast residents: the preservation, not the exploitation of our natural resources." As evidence of this popular will, Behr pointed to the 1960 vote on the State Water Project. It barely passed statewide, but was rejected four-to-one in the North Coast counties.

Master Plan Talks Tonight

The second of three planned public discussions of a proposed master plan for the Strawberry area will be held at 8 p.m. today in the Strawberry Recreation Center.

J. Martin Rosse, chairman of the planning committee for the Strawberry Area Community Council, reported that about 55 residents attended the first presentation of the proposal Saturday.

They each filled out questionnaires which will be compiled along with those handed out at the meeting today and at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Rosse said.

The initial comments "seemed favorable," Rosse said.

He stressed that the plan is drafted for long-range use, whether or not Strawberry remains a separate community. The plan was described in the Independent-Journal on Thursday.

Hood Schedules Campaign For March, April

Gerald J. Hood, Candidate for the Mill Valley City Council, has scheduled several campaign events for the rest of March and early April.

First will be a coffee to be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Leon Roth, 377 Molino Avenue.

Others include March 18, Youth for Hood car wash at Lee's Richfield Service station, 35 Corte Madera Avenue; March 19, a champagne reception to be held at the home of Dr. John Lee, 178 Tamalpais Avenue, at 3 p.m.; March 22, coffee to be held at 8 p.m. at the home of Kenyon Spalding, 660 Ridgewood Avenue; March 23, coffee at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Donald Westerbecke, 665 Lowell Avenue, and a Youth for Hood car clinic and inspection all day April 1 at Lee's Richfield Service, 35 Molino Avenue.

Speakers Taken

Two car stereo speakers worth $165 were stolen yesterday from the auto of Kevin L. Kirwan, 24, of 119 Nova Albion Way, as he was loading his car to move from the building, according to San Rafael police.

Police Seek Information On Girl Found Slain

San Rafael police said today they would like to talk to anyone who may have seen Kim Wendy Allan Saturday, March 4. She was found strangled in a ravine the next day south of Santa Rosa.

She was last seen about 5 p.m. Friday, March 3 when she left her job at Larkspur Natural Foods, 460 Magnolia Avenue, and told coworkers she planned to hitchhike to Santa Rosa.

Police said she was hitchhiking north on Highway 101 from the Belle Avenue exit. They are seeking anyone who may have seen her standing by the road or getting into a car.

Police said she was wearing an orange backpack, and carrying a small barrel she intended to make into a drum. It was about 30 inches tall and a foot in diameter.

Miss Allen was described as having long light brown hair, with a gold plastic beret, and wearing a white embroidered blouse and full length blue skirt with flowers. Police also said she was carrying a green straw bag about 24 inches long.

Youths, Police Battle In Vallejo

VALLEJO (UPI) —Police used tear gas to disperse about 150 black youngsters Sunday when the youths hurled rocks, bottles and dirt at police and firemen after the officers had put out a fire at the community center, police reported.

Police said the fire started at the Thompson Park Community Center in Country Club Crest. As fire and police units were leaving the scene, youths threw rocks and bottles at the passing officers, police said.

A second fire started at the center a short time later which almost totally destroyed the center. Police said they suspected arson.

Again, young residents hurled rocks and bottles at passing cars and a couple of firemen were hit.

After police called in the Sheriff's Department and the California Highway Patrol, the officers dispersed most of the young men with tear gas.

No arrests were made.

Nancy Reagan Opposes Dope

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The wife of Gov. Ronald Reagan says the legalization of marijuana would result in vending machine sales and extensive advertising campaigns to attract people to the drug.

"It boggles the mind to think of billboards urging you to 'fly higher' with Brand X, or 'get stoned quicker' with Brand Y," Nancy Reagan said Sunday.

Expressing her opposition to legalizing marijuana, Mrs. Reagan said "every form of advertising would be employed to induce more people to smoke it."

She made the comments in the latest installment of her weekly question-and-answer column in the Sacramento Union.

Pastor Is Arrested Again In Theft

Rev. Joseph Leon Hughes, pastor of the Church of All Faiths in Corte Madera, has been charged again with forgery and grand theft in a warrant out of Oakland-Peidmont Judicial District Court.

The 52-year-old minister was arrested Friday and booked into Marin County Jail on the warrant, according to Corte Madera police. He posted $6,000 bail to appear in the East Bay court March 24.

Hughes was first arrested by Corte Madera police Jan. 28 on suspicion of forgery and making false statements about his financial condition. No charge has yet been filed in Marin.

That arrest came after Hughes's wife, Ardith, told police he signed her name to two large bank loans last year.

But it was a third loan of $2,694 that got Hughes in trouble in Oakland. In January he was granted the loan from the American Baptist Norcal Credit Union using his wife's inheritance as collateral.

Police said he forged a document to use the inheritance to refinance the two previous loans totaling $2,500 from the Corte Madera branch of the Bank of America.

Hughes was credited with breathing new life into the sagging First Baptist Church of Corte Madera after he took charge in 1968. The church was later renamed the Church of All Faiths.

have disclosed their contributors and Humphrey has promised he would.

—All the candidates on the Democratic ballot—except Lindsay and McGovern—skipped a Sunday television interview show in Miami. At the last moment, Jackson pulled out and Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York pleaded laryngitis.

—Appearing on Issues and Answers (ABC-TV), Wallace said he would enter the California primary in June and added he has "no thought of dropping out at this time under any circumstances." Wallace said he has an "excellent chance" to win a majority of the 81 delegate votes.

Shortly before going on television at Miami station WCKT, McGovern was handed a full page advertisement in which Lindsay accused him of compromising the 14th Amendment by voting for compromise legislation on the school busing issue.

Holding the paper in front of him, McGovern said, "That's an outright lie. I have not compromised on the busing issue."

Open Space Is Right Of All—Behr

BERKELEY (UPI) —A state senator contends that "essentially it's a lot of rubbish" to hold that "open space is only for the WASP and the Sierra Club."

Sen. Peter Behr, R-San Rafael, speaking Saturday at a People for Open Space conference, contended that "pure air, clean water, open space should be the right of every American."

Jack Davies, operator of a winery in Napa County, and another conference speaker, said agricultural zoning laws in his area had been a success.

Such zoning was imposed three years ago in Napa County and resulted in the re-opening of at least 10 wineries and increased agricultural employment by 30 per cent, he said.

The zoning, he said, "removed the argument that this was going to be some other kind of country."

Assemblyman John Dunlap, D-Napa, said he would introduce legislation to create a $100 million fund to buy lands for open space.

Money would be raised by a transfer tax on real estate, he said. The tax would not apply on the first $20,000 of a sale of a home.

Dunlap contended the tax was "entirely fair" since it would apply mainly to those who profit from problems caused by new developments.

His fund would call for studies on which lands should be purchased, including 8,700 acres for a Bolinas Lagoon state park.

Stuart Udall, former secretary of the Department of the Interior and now a private consultant, declared bold steps and action were needed immediately.

Little dribbles of money spread widely would result in failure, he said.

2 Convicted In Selling Of Heroin

A jury of six men and six women in Marin Superior Court has convicted a couple — who reportedly thought it would be "cool" to have a baby born as an addict — of selling heroin.

Due to be sentenced by Judge Thomas F. Keating are Donald Gilliam, 27, and Toi Ann Weindel, 20. Gilliam was found guilty of two sales of heroin and Miss Weindel of one to agent Garrett McDonald of the Marin County Drug Abuse Bureau at their Novato apartment.

During the trial last week McDonald testified that before dealing with Miss Weindel he had never heard of anyone using a welfare check with which to buy dope. He also told the court that before making one buy of heroin from the couple, Miss Weindel, then pregnant, asked Gilliam not to sell all the heroin they had but to save some for themselves.

McDonald said that Gilliam told her he thought she ought to cut down on heroin use because of her pregnancy. "It would be cool to have a baby that's an addict but I don't want a deformed baby," McDonald quoted Gilliam as having said.

Gilliam is due to be sentenced April 1 and Miss Weindel, now the mother of two children, on March 24.

Tiburon Council Meets Tonight

Recommendation on how to realign Tiburon Boulevard at Trestle Glen will be considered tonight at a meeting of the Tiburon City Council at 7:30 o'clock in council chambers.

The council will consider a plan endorsed last week by both the Tiburon Planning Commission and the park and recreation commission, a plan which would allow two large recreational areas on either side of the realigned road. The two areas would, under the plan drawn up by the city engineer's office, be connected by a tunnel.

The council also will consider a proposal to establish an association of county and city governments within North Bay counties and will consider holding a work session to set up policy guidelines for the Tiburon Police Department.

Court Hearing Near In Firing

The long-stalled firing case of teacher Kenneth A. Anderson moved nearer to a court airing Saturday when Supt. Wilber D. Hawkins of the Tamalpais High School District gave his deposition.

The district's trustees voted last May to fire the 31-year-old English teacher from Tamalpais High School, but the case has yet to be heard in Marin Superior Court.

Since Anderson is tenured, he cannot be dismissed without a court hearing.

Although charges against him include failing to follow district grading and attendance policies, refusing to obey district rules and encouragig antisocial attitudes among students, Anderson has been supported by some students and parents.

He will give his deposition Thursday.

Prison, where he met Berrigan when the radical priest was sent there May 1, 1970 for defacing draft records.

"Carrying a gun is not a normal incident in your life?" Boudin askee.

When Douglas' answer seemed a bit vague Boudin snapped:

"Are you carrying a gun now?"

In a protracted argument about whether Douglas should answer, Judge Herman called it "a ridiculous question" and sustained a government objection to it.

Douglas testified he occasionally had carried the Berretta or a .38 caliber pistol in an attache case while traveling on airplanes but said the occasions were either while en route to a hunting spot or when he was changing residence and had to keep his possessions on his person.

The wearying grind of cross-sexamination went into its fifth day and Douglas was at a testy level that sometimes spilled into backtalk.

But in general, Douglas, 31, a two-time convict, displayed the emotional balance that had enabled him from the age of 18 to play con man to banks, women, wardens, nuns and priests.

Douglas's 11th day on the stand opened the eighth week of the trial of the seven militant opponents of U.S. involvement in the Vietnam War, but it was the beginning of only the fourth week of testimony. The first four weeks were spent in seating a federal court jury of nine women and three men, plus six alternates.

The Rev. Philip F. Berrigan, a convict along with Douglas in Lewisburg Penitentiary in 1970, is accused of being the leader of a group that plotted that year to kidnap Henry A. Kissinger, President Nixon's adviser; to sabotage the systems that heat federal buildings in Washington, and to destroy draft records.

Driver Hurt As Truck Slams Into House

A Corte Madera man was injured Saturday when his truck left Shoreline Highway in Stinson Beach and rammed a house, according to the California Highway Patrol.

No report on his injuries was available.

John C. Wiggington, 17, of 45 Spindrift Passage, was rounding a curve about 4:45 p.m. Saturday afternoon when the accident occurred, officers said. The house, 315 Shoreline Highway, is owned by Javier Benedet. An estimate of the damage to the house was unavailable.

Woman Treated As Car Hits Bike

A Fairfax woman was treated at Marin General Hospital Friday after she was struck by a car while riding a bicycle on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo.

Carol Jean Lee, 20, of 19 Sequoia Road, was treated for a bruised right hip, the hospital said.

Police said she was struck at about 7 p.m. near San Francisco Boulevard by a car driven by Amadeo J. Podesta, 49, of 1422 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo.

Podesta was cited for speeding, officers said.

Fee Request Before Council

The Novato City Council will consider a request by G'Tec Cable TV to increase its monthly charge for cable television at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Novato City Hall.

The firm, which now charges $4.50 a month, is seeking an increase to $5.50.

Councilmen also will consider a request to subsidize the Greyhound bus depot in Novato at the rate of $125 a month for six months, and a proposal to establish six bus stop locations on Grant Avenue, between Highway 101 and Seventh Street.

Novatan Injured In Fall From Cycle

A Novato man was injured in a fall from his motorcycle on South Novato Boulevard near Green Glen about 5:40 p.m. yesterday, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Arnold D. Ash, of 23 Truman Drive, refused treatment for his injuries, according to officers. He had stopped on the shoulder of the road and fell from the motorcycle while accelerating to join traffic, according to officers.

Proposed Budget On School Agenda

A preliminary proposed $273,959 budget for 1972-73 will be reviewed by trustees of the Bolinas-Stinson School District at 8 p.m. today in Bolinas School, according to district secretary Avis Pattison. The district's current operating budget is $257,543.

The board will also consider reemployment of its teaching staff and employment of a natural science teacher and a bus driver.

She was born in San Francisco and lived there most of her life. For 35 years she was a tailor for Gantner-Mattern Co. of San Francisco. She retired in 1938 and made her home with her sister and only survivor, Lyda L. Andrews. For the past 16 years she had lived in Inverness Park.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial will be private.

CHARLES ROBIN

A requiem Mass for Charles W. Robin of San Jose, father of Barry Robin of Petaluma, was celebrated today in San Jose.

Robin, 72, died Friday in a San Jose hospital after a long illness.

He was born in San Francisco. For 45 years he was a switchman for Southern Pacific Railroad until he retired five years ago.

He is also survived by his wife, Marie F. Robin; another son, Charles E. Robin of Morgan Hill; a daughter Kathleen Lee of San Jose; three brothers, Frank Robin of Modesto, Melvan Robin and Edward Robi, both of San Francisco; and eight grandchildren.

Burial was in Santa Clara Catholic Cemetery, Santa Clara.

GEORGE C. JOHNSTON

Funeral for George C. Johnston, 80, of 833 Vallejo Avenue, Novato, was held today in Novato.

Johnston died Saturday in a local hospital after a long illness.

He was born in Bloomfield, Iowa. He had been a cattle rancher in Wyoming, a farmer in Idaho and for 13 years managed property in Albany, Ore., prior to moving to Novato eight years ago.

He is suvived by his wife, Hildegard; two sons, Dr. Raymond G. Johnston of Novato and D. Edward Johnston of Denver, Colo.; a daughter, Carleen Marie Darling of Dublin, Calif., and five grandchildren.

Inurnment will be in Wyoming.

Memorial contributions to the American Heart Association or American Cancer Society would be appreciated by the family.

FELIX STACHEL

Funeral for Felix Stachel, 55, of El Cerrito, former Petaluma poultry rancher, was held yesterday in Petaluma.

Stachel died Saturday at a Richmond Hospital after a brief illness. He was a native of Poland and moved to Petaluma from Germany 23 years ago.

Stachel owned a poultry ranch for 16 years and moved to El Cerrito six years ago. He had owned and operated Moo's ice cream parlor in Richmond.

He is survived by his wife, Luba; a daughter, Telsa Grime of San Rafael; and two sons, Richard and Norbert Stachel of El Cerrito.

EVELYN McAFEE

Funeral for Evelyn McAfee of Millbrae, mother of Patricia Schomaker of San Anselmo, was held today in Daly City.

Mrs. McAfee, 58, died Thursday in a Daly City hospital after a long illness.

She was born in Wyoming and lived in California for the past 30 years.

She is also survived by her husband, Edward McAfee; another daughter, Sue Smith of Belmont; a son, Roy McAfee of San Mateo; a sister, Della O'Brien of Fairfield; two brothers, Roy Dinger of Wyoming and Walter Dinger of Washington and four grandchildren.

Burial was in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

HEARING TESTS CONDUCTED IN SAN RAFAEL

Electronic hearing tests will be given at 903 Fifth Ave., San Rafael by J. Paul Messinger "Certified Hearing Aid Audiologist"

J. PAUL MESSINGER
Certified Hearing Aid Audiologist

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding is welcome to come in for a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine his or her particular degree of hearing loss. Diagrams showing how the ear works and some of the causes of hearing loss will be available.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year, if he has any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told an aid won't help should have a hearing test and find out about the very latest hearing aids. They are much improved.

The free hearing tests will be held at 903 Fifth Ave. five days per week. If you need an evening appointment call or write The Messingers House of Hearing Aids, Phone 456-5227.

ANDREW MIAO
Student on leave

New Leased Housing Head Named

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency and Marin County Housing Authority have jointly appointed Andrew Miao, a 23-year-old student on leave, manager of their leased housing program.

Miao replaces Gerald A. Hood, now county human rights director. Shirley Williams had been acting manager since last July.

Miao will draw a salary of $829 per month from the agency.

He is on leave of absence from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he was in the masters of architecture program. Miao, from Cambridge, Mass., is a cum laude graduate of Harvard University in visual and environmental studies.

He will be responsible for running the subsidized private housing program in the county.

Pakistan Women Breaking Tradition

KARACHI (UPI)—Pakistani women are breaking away from orthodox tradition by leaving hearth and home to earn a man's wage in the nation's factories.

This was indicated by figures released by the director of labor and welfare which showed a 30 per cent increase in Karachi's female labor force since 1968.

Symposium On Prisons At College

Prison's role in the system of justice will be analyzed at an all-day sumposium beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday at College of Marin.

The program will be held at the college center in Kentfield.

A speaker from the state Department of Corrections will open the conference, followed by a panel that will discuss community-oriented aiternatives to large penal institutions. The panel will include Thomas Bazeley, state parole agent; Sgt. James C. Dukes, California highway patrolman and former correctional eofficer; Edward Briggs, deputy public defender, and Ann Roth, deputy probation officer.

The afternoon session will open at 1 p.m. with a talk on the concept of a community correctional center and the integration of the offender into the community, to be given by Hadden W. Roth, former Marin Municipal Court judge.

A panel discussion by former inmates Ric Hyland, Pat Wood and Deborah Castro will follow.

The symposium precedes a six-week series of lectures entitled "Prison: Inside and Out," which will be offered at College of Marin beginning at 8 p.m., April 4.

Symposium sponsors are the Marin Young Men's Christian Association, College of Marin, Jewish Community Center of Marin, Marin County Peace Officers Association, Marin Council for Civic Affairs, Marin Association for Mental Health, Marin Alternative and Catholic Social Service Agency of Marin.

School Board To Discuss Staffing

The Lagunitas School District board is scheduled to discuss administrative staffing at 7:30 p.m. today at San Geronimo Valley School.

Supt. William E. Johnson is to leave the district in August and trustees are to consider the possibility of contracting for administrative services.

The board also is scheduled to meet in closed session at 7 p.m. to discuss the hiring of teachers for the 1972-73 school year.

Freight, Coal Trains Collide; Four Killed

HERNDON, Pa. (UPI)—A coal train left a siding too soon Sunday and collided head-on with a freight train. Thirty-four cars, some of which carried fuel, telescoped into the engines and burst into flames, killing four Penn Central crewmen.

A railroad spokesman said the 104-car coal train failed to heed a signal to stop on the siding until the 100-car freight, which had the right of way, had passed.

Thirty-four freight and coal cars hurtled into the engines and burst into flames, trapping the engineers and brakemen of the two Penn Central trains beneath a pile of rubble nearly 500 feet long and 40 feet high.

Eleven other cars left the tracks and spilled into the back yards of houses along the tracks in this small eastern Pennsylvania community.

Nearly 200 firemen worked through the night to control a blaze fed by 10,000 gallons of diesel fuel in the engine cars and a carload of chemical fertilizer.

The bodies of Engineer H. C. Billig, 59, of Camp Hill, Pa., and brakeman Emil L. Serhan, 44, of Williamsport, Pa., were recovered from the wreckage of the freight train.

A third body was recovered but was not immediately identified. Authorities believed it probably was engineer Robert M. Otto, 48, of Williamsport, or brakeman W. P. Kennedy, 42, of Nesbitt, Pa., who were in the locomotive of the coal train.

High School 'Achievers' To Be Picked By Judges

Five business, professional and civic leaders will judge zone winners from among area high school seniors in Bank of America's 25th annual achievement awards competition in San Rafael on March 22.

Based on panel discussions with the students, scholastic records and extracurricular activities, judges will choose the four most well-rounded students to advance to the final event in May in San Francisco.

There will be top awards of $1,000 in each of four study fields: fine arts, science and mathematics, vocational arts and liberal arts.

Judges for the San Rafael zone competition are John H. Dado of Petaluma, an accountant; Billie Garl, executive secretary of the Novato Chamber of Commerce; Angelina Soldavini, San Rafael treasurer; Dr. Harold K. Graves, president of Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Mill Valley, and James G. Bolen, president of a San Francisco publishing company.

Marist Property Decision Due

After two lengthy hearings which drew large turnouts, the San Rafael Planning Commission is scheduled to decide on use permits for the nine-acre Marist Seminary property on Grand Avenue at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at City Hall.

Permits are sought which will allow development consisting of a tennis club, church, ballet school and meeting center for fraternal groups.

(The use permit applications are midway on the evening's agenda.)

Dominican area residents have protested the proposed uses, claiming the neighborhood would be suxject to noise, litter, lights and traffic.

Father, Son Treated After Boat Capsizes

A father and son from Hayward were treated at Marin General Hospital Saturday for bruises received when their sailing boat capsized, hospital authorities reported yesterday.

Eugene and Sigrid Anderson, were released after being examined, according to the hospital.

They were two of three men rescued from overturned boats Saturday in the rough waters off the Golden Gate in Point Bonita Channel, called "the Potato patch," one of them twice.

A small sailing boat overturned dumping its only sailor into the water. He was rescued by the Andersons in their boat. Then it overturned throwing all into the water, according to the Coast Guard.

A third unidentified boat pulled the Anderson's on board and put them ashore where they were taken to the hospital. The Cast Guard picked up the third man, set his boat upright, and put him back on it. It did not get his name.

Alioto Shows Need For Conflict Laws

A mirror was held up to the legal profession — or some members of it, anyhow — last week at the Vancouver, Wash., trial of Joseph L. Alioto, mayor of San Francisco, on charges of bribery, mail fraud and conspiracy.

The reflection did not reply affirmatively to the question, "Mirror, mirror on the wall, am I the fairest one of all?"

MAYOR ALIOTO himself held up the mirror.

Yes, he told the court, he had split legal fees in a Washington anti-trust damage suit with the attorney general of the state of Washington. But that was not unusual, he said, for he had split legal fees with 10 office-holders since he was admitted to the bar in 1947.

He listed nine of the 10. Among them were men who were mayor of Beverly Hills, assistant attorneys general of Hawaii, Illinois and Washington, a governor of Colorado, and two judges in California.

"Any time I share fees with a public official," Alioto testified, "I simply make inquiry on two points. Does he have the right to private practice? Does he have an official relationship with the plaintiffs?"

THESE QUESTIONS, it may be noted, quite definitely do not include the vital one: Is he in a position to use his influence because of the public office he holds?

Alioto named the two judges with whom he said he had split fees: Thomas L. Bocci of San Mateo County Municipal Court and Frederick Mahl of Los Angeles Superior Court.

Judge Mahl retired from the bench in June, 1966, and died in November of that year. Judge Bocci left the bench several years earlier to run unsuccessfully for another office.

In 1966, this was added to the California State Constitution as Article VI, Section 17:

"A judge of a court of record may not practice law... A judicial officer may not receive fines or fees for his own use."

THE QUESTION of conflict of interest is a delicate and important one for all public officials. It is perhaps most delicate and most important for those who occupy the bench.

Sharing of legal fees by a judge is inimical to the even-handed dispensation of justice. Whether the fee has any connection with a case before the judge is immaterial, if the lawyer who hands him the fee may ever be involved in any other case heard in his court.

The attorney who splits fees with judges — or with governors, or attorney general, or assistant attorneys general — leaves himself open to the suspicion of bribery. That, of course, is one of the charges against Alioto.

The attorney who boasts that he does this, asking only the office-holder's assurance that he has no official relationship to the plaintiff in the case, turns upon his profession a mirror that gives back a reflection highly suggestive of the wicked witch in "Snow White."

If there were need for a conclusive argument for much tighter conflict of interest laws applying to public officials, Mayor Joseph Alioto has provided that argument.

Return Of The Windjammer?

Of interest to Marin sailboat enthusiasts is the report that sometime next year a new type of four-masted windjammer will slide down the ways in Germany.

A freighter with its sails controlled by computer, it will take advantage of satellite weather forecasts to avoid the doldrums. Carrying small auxiliary motors, this cross between the era of tall masts and the space age is expected to effect great savings to the shipping community.

CLEAN AIR SHOWDOWN

Walker Vs. Callaghan Produces Smog Board Crisis

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Clean air is what will be at a stake this Wednesday at a showdown hearing over the proposed firing of the legal officer of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

Close to a majority of the 18 district directors appear ready to fire Matthew S. Walker for failing to "cooperate fully" with the top administrator, D. J. Callaghan.

Walker, in turn, has charged Callaghan — with the backing of unnamed directors — with shielding industrial polluters. And a Stanford University biologist on the district's advisory council has compiled a 72-page documentation of charges that Callaghan systematically has favored industry over public welfare.

The long-delayed public hearing on the move to fire Walker will be held at 10 a.m. in district offices at 939 Ellis Street, San Francisco. It will be the most important show in town.

MARIN COUNTY has two voices on the board of directors: Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and Sausalito City Councilman Wyman Hicks. Hicks apparently would vote against firing Walker, but Arrigoni already voted in committee for firing Walker.

Arrigoni is resisting pressure from concerned citizens who see the firing move as a clear issue between clear and dirty air. Arrigoni is correct in saying it is not all that simple — but this hardly gives him enough to hide behind.

The real hard nut is that the battle has become a test of Callaghan's support on the board of directors. The former 12-member board was beginning to show some independence of Callaghan until last year's addition of six more directors when Sonoma, Napa and Solano counties were added to the district. Their arrival gave Callaghan fertile new territory to mine for support, and he did well.

Even Arrigoni, however, may join those directors who recognize that the district never will be credible again until there is a change at its top. As we commented here last November, "Administrators like Callaghan are a lot easier to find than counsels like Walker."

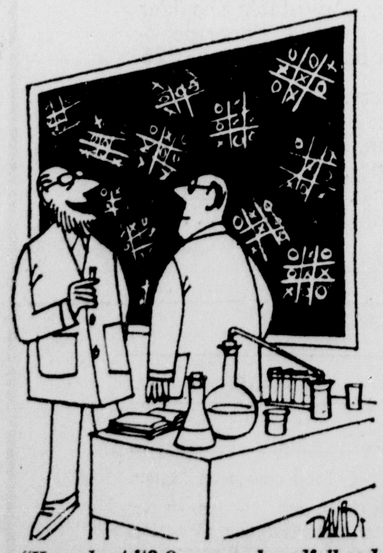

Or, as stated in the 72-page evaluation of Callaghan's performance, "Callaghan's obvious industry sympathies, and his efforts to prevent the public from obtaining information about the pollution impact of specific firms, have made many observers wonder whether the district is working for the public's interest in clean air, or merely acting as a buffer to protect industry from effective controls."

THE DISTRICT'S board of directors has proved responsive to public pressure in the past — when enough pressure could be brought to bear. The public should not have to fight so hard and so long to get its own representatives to work in its behalf.

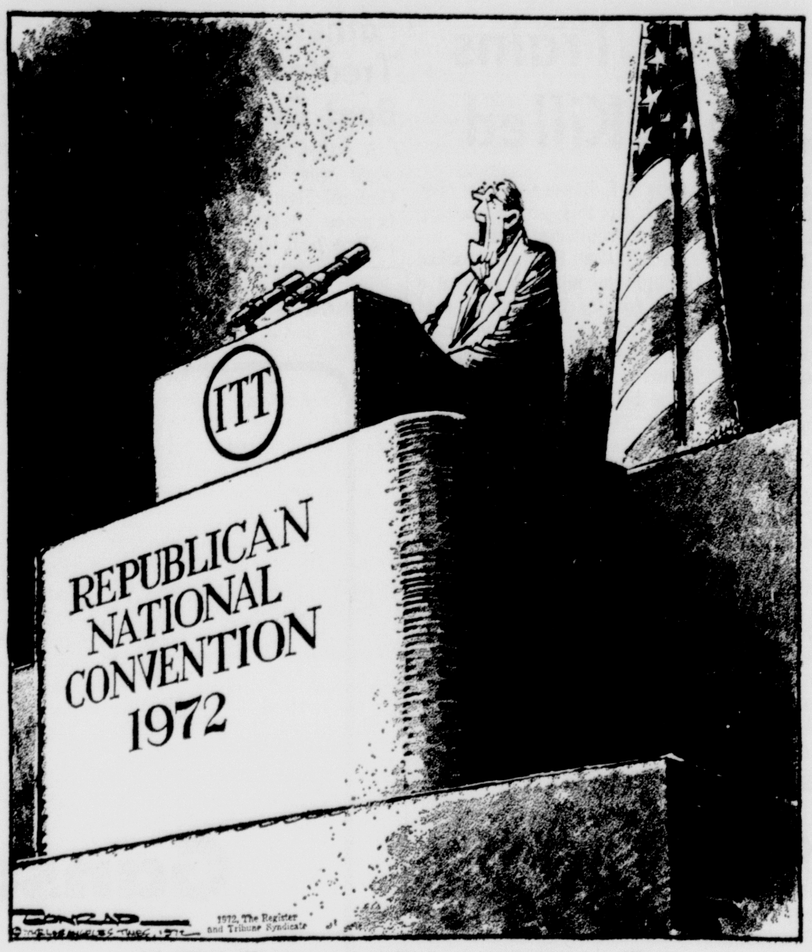

If this battle is won by Callaghan, it will be a long time before public faith in the district will relurn.

And it may be time again for Bay Area legislators to reconsider breaking up the board of directors and replacing them with a directly elected board.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Wild Rivers Bill Wrong Way To Go

Once in a while there comes a time in the affairs of a land like our great North Coastal Area, when we are at a cross roads of destiny. One way leads to the preservation and enhancement of our great assets in the natural resources, including the water, the fish and wildlife, and a splendid natural environment, for the benefit and enjoyment of many people, as a definite project purpose.

Today, we have started in the right direction, but at any time now we may be reversed into a wrong and opposite direction by the wild reivers propositions such as SB-107 by Sen. Peter Behr, that are being debated before the Legislature. This proposition is unnecessary, undesirable, ill-advised and certainly premature in view of a program of in-depth studies and investigations that are presently under way, to determine a best possible plan of improvement for our country. These investigations have been authorized under the provisions of the new act; Collier SB-107 of 1971 . . .

Last year the wild river promoters were roundly defeated in their efforts to destroy the Collier bill, which finally carried unanimously. However, this year they are back again, stronger than ever, and intent on just to be doing something, regardless of the consequences. It is not good . . .

Objects To Quotation As Damaging School

I am extremely disappointed in the editorial policy in Barbara Hosmer's article about the O'Donnell children which appeared in the Marin Women section on Feb. 19.

I believe that certain detrimental remarks about the Forest Meadows Development Center should not have been printed without your investigation of their validity.

I am criticizing the comment made by Mrs. O'Donnell that, in regard to her sons, the development center "proved mainly to be a babysitting arrangement."

As a volunteer worker at the development center, I had the opportunity to work with the younger O'Donnell boy many times for several months during which time there was a definite improvement in his sound responses, hearing discrimination, and muscular coordination. The older boy was also taught in speech, hearing, self-help skills, and physical activities. Much time was devoted to the teaching of the O'Donnell boys by members of the staff and volunteers, and this, in my opinion, does not constitute babysitting.

Although the article was moving, and I realize the difficult situation with which the family is faced, I cannot help but take offense at the idea of the development center, with its qualified and dedicated staff and its high rating in the community, being considered as a "babysitting arrangement."

In view of this, I feel it unfair of the Independent-Journal to have printed statements that might be damaging to the Forest Meadows Development Center and its staff.

Student Disagrees With Education Writer

I could quite easily devote the rest of tonight to studying my chemistry, plowing through a textbook analyzing the mysteries of electronegativity and electron affinity. Yet, after reading Dr. John Gilbaugh's dissertation on the sorry state of today's education (published in Feb. 22's I-J) I feel compelled to reply. Even if I, as a student, am merely one of the taxpayers' burdens Dr. Gilbaugh makes reference to in his article, I feel it is my duty to explain the other side of education I see so often — the student's standpoint.

To begin with, I wish to mention that the ideas expressed by Dr. Gilbaugh (i.e. awarding a high school diploma to grammar school graduates in an effort to save taxpayer pain and parental frustration) are nothing new. Rather, they are reflections of the mind of a disgruntled, disenchanted, and disappointed educator, something I have seen more than once during the first 11 years of my education. Professors of Dr. Gilbaugh's rank and esteem have been taught to teach out of the textbook, cramming their students' minds with long lectures, and then straining their nerves with exhaustive exams.

Education has changed for the better, though this is a change professors such as Dr. Gilbaugh have yet to acknowledge . . .

. . . A teacher cannot ask a student to evaluate himself and expect a purely objective reply. For a student can only pass judgment on himself by comparing his achievements to those of his peers. And how can he be expected to know what his classmates are doing when he may know only a few of them, live with just one of them, and rarely (if ever) see the actual work his fellow students are doing? Today's students are distinctly isolated from each other, if not by general interests than by social preferences.

These students are not together. They do not comprise one student body. But they are alike in their needs: a desire for relevance: that is the key. For, five years after he graduates, will a math major remember (or need to remember) why he missed question 87 on his final, or what page 232 in his text explained? Probably not. But if his time was spent constructively discussing the idea behind page 232 and question 87, he will remember it well.

After all, isn't that what education was always meant to be — a means of educating the student?

STEVE LEWEY

MAN BITES DOG

"A terrible mistake has been made. What China is supposed to get is a muskOX."

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, March 13, the 73rd day of 1972.

The moon is new.

The morning star is Jupiter.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Saturn.

Those born on this day are under the sign of Pisces.

Swiss naturalist Charles Bonnett was born March 13, 1720.

On this day in history:

In 1868 the U.S. Senate began impeachment proceedings against President Andrew Johnson on charges of "high crime and misdemeanors." He was acquitted by one vote.

In 1933 banks throughout the country started reopening after the bank holiday declared by President Franklin D. Roosevelt on March 5.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

New Hampshire And Florida Mean Little In Nomination

New Hampshire is the non-weather vane state. Its winners are often the losers.

Sen. Estes Kefauver defeated Prefident Truman in New Hampshire in 1952. Henry Cabot Lodge got more votes than anyone in 1964. L.B.J. won over Eugene McCarthy in 1968. None of them was nominated.

This time the winner, Edmund Muskie of Maine, was weakened by his victory since he fell below 50 per cent of the vote in his neighboring New England state. The loser, George McGovern, was strengthened by running unexpectedly strong with 37 per cent of the vote.

It can't be ruled out that the New Hampshire primary points to the same end it did four years ago: possibly neither the winner (Muskie) nor the strong loser (McGovern) will get the Democratic nomination.

NOW ON TO FLORIDA. The outcome there will be just as indecisive as New Hampshire. George Wallace, a regional candidate who isn't going to be nominated, will be strong. The rest of the vote will be divided among 13 other contenders and will point in different directions.

Hopeful forecast: This may be the year which marks the end of such a mishmash of presidential primaries.

VIETNAM PEACE CLUES IN PEKING COMMUNIQUE. Nixon and Chou En-lai discussed the Vietnamese war: nothing came out to suggest they reached an agreement.

But they may have moved toward agreement. Those who read diplomatic communiques closely are advancing this intriguing possibility:

China wants the United States to withdraw its military forces from Taiwan.

The United States wants China to withdraw its military aid from North Vietnam.

In the communique, the President promises to withdraw from Taiwan "as tension diminishes in the area."

The only way tension can diminish in the area is to bring the Vietnamese war to an end.

Thus China and the United States have an important common goal in the area. Something may come of it.

HANOI FEARS CHINA SELLOUT. There are two revealing pieces of evidence to this effect:

1 — Hanoi has concealed the news of the Nixon-Chou En-lai talks from the people of North Vietnam. It has never published any of the text of the joint communique. The government must feel that news of Nixon's trip to China would be unsettling.

2 — The president of North Vietnam, Ton Duc Thang, attacked statements in the U.S.-China communique without disclosing their source.

It is evident that Hanoi and Peking are not seeing eye-to-eye on the war.

ANGELA DAVIS — HEROINE IN RUSSIA BUT UNKNOWN. Angela fan clubs have been surfacing all over the Soviet Union. Countless letters are appearing in the Russian press, all beginning, "Dear Angela," and ending, "the Soviet people are with you."

Soviet schoolteachers are required to generate these letters. Privately, Russians admit they know nothing about the affair, don't know who Angela Davis is, and care less. "I'm bored with the whole thing," one teacher said, "all we get is the official view."

PERSPECTIVE ON ARMY DESERTION. The widely held impression is that military desertion in the Vietnamese war is far higher, all out of proportion, compared with any other war.

The fact: Tme peak of army desertion in Vietnam is 73 to 1,000 men; in World War II it was 63 per 1,000 men; this, despite the intense unpopularity of the indecisive Vietnamese war and the strong public support for the war against Nazi Germany and Japan.

A Funeral In Northern Ireland; The Worst Is Yet To Come

LURGAN, Northern Ireland — Funeral services for Harry Dickson, 55, were held in the wind and rain on Friday.

Dickson, a railroad engineer and sergeant in the Ulster Defence Regiment, in effect Northern Ireland's national guard, was slain when two men burst into his home three evenings earlier. One of the men was masked. They shot Dickson dead in front of his 11-year-old daughter, Leslie Ann. The girl was shot in the leg and taken to Lurgan and Portadown Hospital, where she is recovering. Spokesmen for the Provisional IRA in Dublin claimed credit for the killing. Dixon was a Methodist.

THE STORES ALONG Queen Street began closing just after 2 o'clock for his funeral; by 2:30, the whole town was shut down. Women pushing prams, shopkeepers and young men lined the curbs, waiting, while the west wind blew the rain almost horizontally.

The procession moved off with military punctuality from a row house in a new subsection along Park Avenue, which is very different from Park Avenue in New York. It is a relative's house, not the one where Dickson was slain. From windows of several neighboring houses, Union Jacks hung, draped with black crepe. One house flew the flag of Northern Ireland, the red hand at its center.

A burly sergeant-major with baton commanded the honor guard. Its members were clearly civilians; part-time soldiers on the evidence of their hair or their age or their posture, although they wore the dark green berets and olive-drab uniforms of the regiment. Trailing them as they moved at slow-step was a bagpiper in a dull orange kilt, decorated with three black shamrocks.

The piper wailed a lament that seemed to have no beginning and no end. The hearse followed him, full of flowers, and behind it came the coffin, covered by a Union Jack and carried by four pallbearers who crossed their arms over each other's shoulders beneath their burden. Every 50 feet or so, the procession marked time while another foursome moved to take its turn. By the time the guard reached Queen Street, the rain lifted for a few minutes and the clouds blew low and fast.

At the Queen Street Methodist Church, the guard, the pallbearers and all the men in black derbies who walked solemnly behind them crowded inside until there was no more room. The end of the procession stood outside with the English soldier wearing a flak-jacket and steel helmet, keeping his automatic rifle at order arms among the women and prams, while the last rites were spoken inside.

DICKSON WAS the eighth member of the UDR killed in the past seven months. The ninth was Pvt. Tommy Fletcher, 43, also a Protestant, whose body was riddled by four gunmen who had told his wife they were merely taking him into the Irish Republic as a hostage. After the shooting, the four fled across the border of County Fermanagh. Fletcher, like Dickson, was a former B Special, a member of the Ulster Special Constabulary which was disbanded in October, 1969. Fletcher was slain 12 hours after Dixon, and about 60 miles away. In claiming credit for the killings, the Irish Republican Army did not cite any past acts of either man.

After the killings, Brigadier Denis Ormerod, commander of the UDR, maintained they had not affected the morale of his regiment. But he added, "Sooner or later someone is going to get a bloody nose when they attack one of my men."

And that is the point of this piece. Funerals of slain victims are familiar now in Northern Ireland. Only some of these victims are military men, even part-time soldiers. Many are full-time civilians, and most of those are Protestants. Most of the violence is by the IRA or its outriders, and most of that is indiscriminate, rather than aimed at individuals who have somehow offended the Catholic minority. Even Catholic spokesmen concede all this.

THE PROTESTANT majority is angry, but restrained. It knows, and is reminded repeatedly, that a violent backlash against the Catholics is exactly what the IRA is trying to provoke, to further inflame world opinion in favor of merging the Protestant-dominated North into the Catholic-dominated Republic. There are scattered flare-ups of Protestant reaction, a small part of the whole crazy pattern of violence in Belfast, in Londonderry, in Lurgan and the countryside. But the potential is for much more, for a massacre of thousands should the dam of restraint finally break.

That is what the IRA is courting.

Change In Indian Valley Plan Eliminates Disaster Route

Marin County is attempting to get an up-to-date disaster plan. One portion of that plan should be tg have alternate routes for people to use during an emergency.

One such route had been planned by the City of Novato for years. It is the connecting link which would circle the city with an outer drive by which people could get around Novato in case Highway 101 became clogged.

One major part of this link is the extension of four-lane Ignacio Boulevard through the site of the Colleges of Indian Valley to hook up with Indian Valley Road. This in turn would have two curves rounded so that it would make a connecting link with Wilson Avenue. The jog at Wilson Avenue and Simmons Lane would be eliminated and Simmons Lane widened. That connects with San Marin Drive.

Thus motorists could eventually circle the city on a four-lane street without using Highway 101.

NOW THE MARIN County Planning Department has come up with its version of the street pattern for 630 acres of Indian Valley. It wants the road kept to two lanes of travel with the corners made into curves. Along each side would be horse, bicycle and pedestrian paths.

But it does not want the road connected with Ignacio Boulevard.

Residents of the area agreed with the commission of the connection with Ignacio Boulevard at a meeting of the Marin County Planning Commission, but some of them did not want the paths along the 40-foot road.

EVEN IF the connecting link were not needed for an emergency, it would be needed for the Indian Valley Colleges. Without it, there would be only one entrance to the colleges, from the east.

Students in West Novato, Pleasant Valley, Wild Horse Valley and western San Marin would have to take a longer route to get to the college. They would have to go east to one of the north-south routes and then backtrack to the west to the colleges. It would mean many miles of wasted driving on the part of the students to get to the college.

DURING A RECENT Novato Unified School District board meeting, the discussion turned to means of balancing the budget for next year. The only methods suggested were to cut back junior and senior high school teachers, counselors and psychologists.

One of the board members said that the district had a "chicken superintendent" who wouldn't make the cuts. Another chimed in with, "Yes, and seven chicken board members."

Peace Treaty In Sudan Ends Longest Civil War

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The southern edge of Africa's Sahara Desert, "where the camel meets the canoe," is more than just a place where the desert sands end and the jungle begins. All across Africa it also marks the line between the Moslem, Arab north and the black African south.

In the south for hundreds of years the Arabs have been known at the slave traders, and black Africans fear and hatred of them runs deep. Those differences contributed to the Biafran war of secession against Nigeria. They have a role in the civil war in Chad and it figured heavily in the 16-year war for independence fought by the southern Sudanese against the Moslem north as represented by the capital at Khartoum.

FROM ADDIS ABABA, seat of the Organization for African Unity, has come word of a negotiated peace, ending Africa's longest war of secession in Africa's largest state.

It has been a brutal war, with mass burnings, mutilation and other atrocities commonplace. United Nations sources place the number of dead from gunfire and bombings at 500,000 with perhaps another million made homeless.

There have been abortive attempts at peace in the Sudan before, but as of today the new accord gives autonomy to the south in all matters but defense, foreign policy, currency and trade.

THE SUDAN, with nearly a million square miles of territory, is one of Africa's least developed countries.

Since independence in 1956 it has been a cold war battleground, and since 1967 a center of intrigue in the war between the Arab states and Israel.

Arms supplied to the Sudanese rebels by Israel helped tie up the central government's armed forces and prevented their use against Israel.

From the Soviet Union the central government in Khartoum received $75 million in arms, including MIG21 jets and tanks, and employed Communist advisers in government until failure of a Communist-led coup against the government of Gen. Jaafar al-Nimeiry in July, 1971.

AFTER NIMEIRY'S counter coup and the arrest and execution of many prominent Sudanese Communists, relations with the Soviet Union cooled almost to the breaking point.

After the abortive coup, Nimeiry turned toward the United States, Britain and China for aid.

Britain loaned him $26 million, China, $18.2 million, and the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, $15 million for agricultural development and road building.

THE SOUTHERN Sudan is an essential part of the Sudan and could be a heavy contributor to the well-being of Egypt and nearby Libya.

It has some 200 million acres suitable for cultivation of which only about 7.5 million have been developed. So far as mineral resources are concerned, it is practically virgin territory.

Assuming the present peace agreement survives, the Sudan thus becomes the third African nation to survive a serious attempt at secession. The first two were Zaire (Republic of the Congo) and Nigeria.

Pope's Warning On The Trinity

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI warned Sunday that in some writings, doctrines on Christ and the Trinity "have not been correctly interpreted and expressed by several authors."

The pontiff said misinterpretation of the doctrines on Christ and the Trinity hold "grave danger of irreverence toward the mysteries themselves, and of deformation of our faith."

His statement backed one of the sternest Vatican warnings in a decade, made last week by the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith (the former Holy Office), which condemned "recent errors" about the nature of God.

Neither the Congregation nor the pontiff gave names. But Vatican sources said he referred in particular to Dutch theologians Ansfried Hulsbosch, Piet Schoonenberg and Edward Schillebeeck.

These scholars have stressed the "humanity" of Jesus.

The Vatican warning made it clear those scholars were threatening the belief that Jesus, like God, is eternal.

Education Board Meets Tuesday

The San Rafael Board of Education is scheduled to hear a report on an experimental seven-period day at Terra Linda High School at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the schools administration building, Third and E streets.

The switch from six 53-minute periods to seven 45-minute sessions was approved by the board last month and went into effect Feb. 28. The seventh period was to be an open period during which students could work on projects, meet with teachers or counselors or make up missed examinations.

Principal Frank A. Stocking is to present an evaluation of the system to board members.

The board also is scheduled to open bids on the sale of four lots on Castlewood Drive opposite Glenwood School at 8 p.m.

Urban Thoroughfare Agreement To Be Studied By Supervisors

Marin County Board of Supervisors, meeting tomorrow at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center, will consider a recommendation to put cities on notice that the urban thoroughfare agreement will end next year.

The recommendation, by the county department of public works, is aimed at saving the county about $180,000 spent each year for projects within city limits.

Under the agreement, the county has matched city funds for road projects within city limits that are of countywide importance. However, the public works department maintains such projects are diminishing.

"The trend (by cities) now is to have relatively smaller operational improvements and these tend to have less of a countywide benefit than the larger projects which had prevailed earlier," the department said.

Also, "there seems to be substantial public objection toward the construction of large road improvements," the department added.

But because the cities already have programmed road projects for next year based on shared costs, the county should sign the agreement for one more year, the department said.

The City of Mill Valley, in a letter to the board, requested a continuance until it has had time to study the recommendation.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors agenda also includes:

POLICE — A one-hour "workshop session" with the police-community relations department on the agency's three-year project to assist police departments. The meeting will be held at Room 332 of the administration building.

GREENBRAE — A 279-signature petition from Greenbrae residents asking the board to rescind creation of the Greenbrae service area, proposed to take over maintenance of the community's public areas.

LIBRARY — A proposed agreement with the Mill Valley Library offering county books and services in exchange for use of the library by county residents.

Open House Changes Told

Changes in the Saturday open house schedule for the San Francisco Bay-Delta Hydraulic Model in Sausalito — now to include March 4 and 18 and April 8 and 22 — have been announced by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Previously, April 1 and 15 had been announced as open house Saturdays.

The model includes the entire San Francisco Bay System, plus portions of the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta. Roberts said about 400,000 visitors will view the model this year.

COURTEOUS, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

Our new 280 SE 4.5 costs almost three times as much as the "average" car. But we think there are 10,000 Americans who can appreciate the difference.

The average car buyer could be taken aback at the price of our new Mercedes-Benz 280SE 4.5.

At over $10,000, it is not only well above average, it is some $2,500 more expensive than the highest priced domestic luxury sedan.

Whether it's worth that difference to you may be answered only by what you expect of a motor car.

The 280SE 4.5 is a touring sedan in the best European tradition.

Designed to provide every motoring comfort for a party of five. And engineered to cope with driving situations that vary from the descending switchbacks of an Alpine pass to the 100 mph cruising speeds of an Autobahn.

A concept so different from that guiding the design of a domestic "luxury" car you may find driving something to do—instead of something that must be done.

Its engine is unlike any you'll find in an American car. An overhead-cam, fuel-injected 4.5 liter V-8.

It has no carburetors. Instead, a computer monitors engine speed and load, temperature and altitude, then electronically meters fuel to each cylinder. This precise method of fuel delivery is the most advanced way of providing efficient, high-speed touring capability.

The fully independent suspension was designed for ruts and bends, not just boulevards and turnpikes. It's so roadworthy, Road & Track contends that "no domestic luxury sedan is even in the same ballpark."

And to match its performance abilities, Mercedes-Benz engineers have equipped it with four power-assisted disc brakes, ventilated in front to resist fading.

The result is an automobile that can perform with equal aplomb on the 174 curves of Nürburgring, or the unwavering ribbon of a thruway.

And an automobile that is further endowed with almost every comfort. Power brakes and steering. Electric windows. Air conditioning and tinted glass. Electrically heated rear window. An AM-FM receiver. Even a central locking system that secures all four doors, the trunk and even the gas port at the touch of a button.

In addition to the 280SE 4.5, Mercedes-Benz builds two other V-8 touring sedans in similarly miniscule quantities.

The 280SEL 4.5 is identical to the SE except that it is longer. Longer in the Mercedes-Benz sense—an increase of four inches that is translated directly into rear-seat leg room.

The 300SEL 4.5 adds air suspension to the list of performance features unavailable on any domestic automobile.

In total, these three high-performance touring sedans will account for less than one of every 400 cars sold in the United States this year.

If you can accept a car that "different," take a thorough test drive. Discover the real differences in a car built to be the best—not the best seller.

Mercedes-Benz of North America, Inc.

"One has to pay through the nose for the best, but for those who can afford it...the 280SE with the V-8, in either the regular or the L version, is the best available today." Road & Track

INCOME TAX FACTS

Expenses For Church, Charity Deductible As Contributions

Your expenses and costs incurred in work for your church or favorite charity are deductible as contributions, subject to the same limitations as other contributions.

Taxpayers who give their services gratuitously to charitable organizations may deduct as "charitable contributions" the cost of unreimbursed traveling expenses, including amounts spent for food and lodging while away from home in connection with the organization's affairs.

Out-of-pocket expenses incurred by an individual for transportation to and from a local hospital or a local church for the purpose of rendering volunteer services to the American Red Cross and to the church and for the cost and maintenance of uniforms which are required to be worn in performing the volunteer services (if such uniforms are without general utility) qualify as charitable contributions.

Unreimbursed expenses of a delegate to a church conference, American Legion convention, or any other similar organization's convention qualify as deductible charitable contributions.

This would be your unreimbursed automobile expenses, 6 cents per mile for going back and forth to the place where services were rendered as well as the use of the car in the actual rendering of services. Also your bridge tolls, parking, etc.

Your airplane tickets, hotel bills? etc., also are deductible.

Uniforms, such as Gray Lady, Scoutmaster, Civil Air Patrol, Reserve Police Officer, Sheriff Posse, Civil Defense, etc., would all appear to be included in these rulings.

Market Takes A Plunge

NEW YORK (UPI) —Weighted down by profit taking, the stock market plunged lower during the first two hours today. Trading was fairly active.

Declines held about a 2-to-1 advantage over advances among the 1,586 issues crossing the tape. The two-hour volume amounted to more than 7,060,000 shares.

Although the dollar was fixed sharply higher abroad today analysts said investors still were concerned about the assaults on it last week.

Further, analysts noted the market has made a sharp gain since Thanksgiving, particularly in recent sessions, without giving up much of it. Thus, the market is in a period of consolidation, they said.

Prices also were lower in fairly active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Syntex was the most active issue, off 2 5-8 at 14 1-8 on 45,600 shares.

Electronics and computer issues took a drubbing for the second consecutive session. Honeywell, down 3 1-4, IBM, 31-8, and Motorola, 2 3-8, were the big losers. Dropping a point or more were Control Data, Burroughs, Texas Instruments and Fairchild Camera.

Steels and motors were mixed. Chemicals headed lower.

Duplan: Hold Or Take The Loss?

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Would you please tell me what you think of Duplan (NYSE). I bought at 23½ and wonder if I should hold or take the loss. — M.D.

A. Lower sales and earnings comparisons are primarily responsible for Duplan's depressed trading levels. Although sales began improving in the second half of fiscal 1971, in fact, making good recovery gains in the first quarter of this year, earnings continued to trend lower.

For the first period of fiscal 1972, sales from continuing operations gained 18 per cent to $37 million, while net per share fell 42 per cent to 32 cents. Lower prices on yarns and knits and related inventory adjustments plus costs incurred from expansion into new consumer product areas were factors restricting margins.

The pricing pressures on knits and yarns have prompted a number of big producers to begin texturizing their own fibers — a discouraging prospect for Duplan, an independent in the field. While shares have amply discounted pricing problems and operational difficulties, wide recovery gains may be some time down the road.

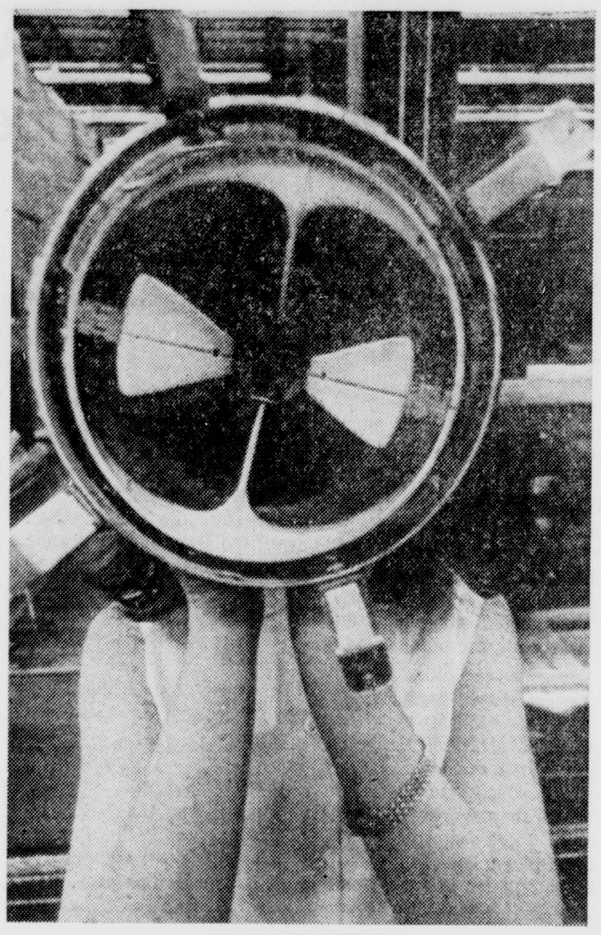

Q. Sometime I would be grateful for your analysis of Marathon Oil. I have held this for years and wonder if it is wise to continue. I am interested in income and appreciation. — W.A.

A. For income and long-term appreciation potential, NYSE-traded Marathon is a suitable holding. Although shares are presently under pressure vis-a-vis the company's Libyan involvement, other factors in Marathon's picture brighten the outlook.

Earnings from Libyan oil are less profitable due to the drop in tanker rates and high taxes. However, lease amortization charges will be cut because of the 1971 year-end charge-off and volume should increase.

Also, drilling in other areas of the globe augurs well for new crude sources: Gas has been discovered in the Irish Sea which offers interesting potential; exploration is going on in Indonesia; and hopes are for higher Yates field allowables.

While 1971 profits were reported below (company wrote off 68 cents a share) the previous year's, improvement should be forthcoming over the long haul. Hold.

'Ombudsman Service' Now Open In Sausalito Offers Counsel

Ireland

Bell

A Sausalito psychologist has opened what he calls the "Ombudsman Service," which offers confidential counseling and mediation for middle and upper management.

Dr. Rudolf E. Holzinger, a management consultant, operates his service at 2670 Bridgeway in Sausalito on weekends and evenings. He can be contacted at P.O. Box 321, Sausalito 94965.

Holzinger found that corporations often suffer decreased efficiency, lower productivity, absenteeism and frustration among middle-management employees because of one thing: failure of communication between personnel and levels of management due to a lack of an effective outlet.

"Ombudsman Service can help employees release pent-up frustrations by serving as an outlet, then discreetly re-channel suggestions for improving management policies with no subsequent betrayal of confidence," he said.

Unlike labor, mid-management has no spokesman, he said. "There is a definite need for outside professionals to serve as confidential and objective listeners and mediators for problems encountered by middle and upper level management personnel in all types of businesses and institutions."

He discovered the need for this type of service last year while working for American Management Psychologists Inc. in Chicago.

More Campsites For Seashore Are Hoped

Camper vehicles and trailers are flocking to Point Reyes National Seashore in such numbers that Olema Ranch Campground near the entrance to the Seashore is operating at 125 per cent capacity.

That is the report from Larry Marks, operator of the campgrounds where the 100 available campsites cannot begin to meet peak needs.

In 1970 his campground handled about 26,000 persons. Last year he added bathhouse and hot showers and accommodated 45,000 tourists. He predicts 60,000 for this year.

Even after the 100 sites are fully occupied, campers keep driving in and parking on any available open space because they have no place to go, said Marks. "I'm getting 100 to 125 per cent occupancy."

To help meet the increasing demand, Marks wants to add 159 more campsites over the next few years, and a shopping area to meet needs of campers and other Seashore visitors.

He plans a restaurant and bar with seating for about 90; a laundromat; and shops for jewelry craft, wine tasting and cheese, dried nuts and fruits, and bicycles.

"The closest laundromat is in Bolinas 12 miles away," Marks said. "As long as the national park is there to attract people, they need these services badly."

Marks also wants to build a recreation hall, which can be used during the off-season by organized camper clubs.

Another West Marin resident who is making plans to meet some of the visitor enterprise needs is Herbert H. Angress, who owns property at 21300 Shoreline Highway on the east shore of Tomales Bay north of Marshall.

Angress plans a condominium-resort area with a restaurant and a 60-unit ldoge, with swimming pool and a recreation building. His Tomales Bay Farm resort is estimated to be worth $1.8 million when completed, excluding the restaurant and pier, which would add another $250,000.

He said no permanent residences are planned so that local schools will not be burdened with new students.

Both Marks and Angress emphasize that their development plans are consistent with policies adopted by the County of Marin, particularly in the visitor enterprise study and recommendations contained in the preliminary countywide plan.

The county's visitor enterprise policy, as stated in the countywide plan, reads: "A positive policy toward establishment of a resort complex with campgrounds, golf courses, restaurants and other visitor services, primarily to accommodate overnight visitors to the outdoor attractions of the coastal area."

Both the expansion at Olema Ranch Campground and the Tomales Bay condominium-resort must go to the Marin County Planning Commission for approval.

Nine On Zoo Train Injured

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Nine persons, including six children, were injured Sunday when the miniature train at the San Francisco Zoo derailed and one of its cars fell off a 10-foot trestle.

Zoo officials said the final car in the three-car train derailed as the engine neared the trestle. The engine and the first two cars continued ahead but the third car derailed and fell over the side.

The injured were taken to Alemany Emergency Hospital but none was seriously hurt.

Officials said it was the first such accident since the zoological society took over operation of the train from the city in 1960. The 40-passenger steam train has been running in the southwest corner of the zoo since 1925.

Trial Evidence Bill Readied

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman Henry A. Waxman, D-Los Angeles, says he has readied for introduction legislation to restrict the handling or examining of evidence to be used in criminal court proceedings.

Waxman said Sunday his bill would "prevent the reoccurence of what happened during the Sirhan Sirhan proceedings.

"According to the Los Angeles County grand jury, members of the public were allowed to examine key evidence, such as the bullets fired from Sirhan's gun and pages from his textbooks. Shockingly, some evidence was removed and lost."

The measure would prohibit anyone from handling or examining evidence without first obtaining a court order. Attorneys for the parties involved would be permitted access to the evidence but only under conditions prescribed by the court.

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON B. GREB

Try this quiz about a famous persoc born today, March 13.

JOSEPH PRIESTLEY (1733-1804) a great English chemist and clergyman.

T F 1. Despite the fact he had little scientific education, this Englishman is said to be one of the founders of modern chemistry.

T F 2. He was the son of an unhappy clothier, who sent young Priestley to be educated as a non-conformist minister at Dissenters' Academy.

T F 3. He was among the first to reject the theory of "dephlogisticated air."

T F 4. Priestley discovered oxygen in 1774 but was actually unaware of the importance of the discovery.

T F 5. Because he sympathized with the French Revolution, a mob attacked him in 1791, burned his house and property, forcing him to flee to America.

ANSWERS

1. TRUE—Modern chemistry began with the work of Robert Boyle but Priestley aided immeasurably in its development.
2. TRUE—He held Socinian ideas about religion and materialistic views on philosophy.
3. FALSE—Actually Priestley embraced the theory of "phlogiston," which was later discredited.
4. TRUE—Lavoisier of France repeated the Englishman's experiment and correctly identified the substance as oxygen.
5. TRUE—Priestley lived in the U.S.A. for 10 years and in 1943 the legislature of Pennsylvania declared his Northumberland home a national monument.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Every Bridge Player Has His Private Chamber Of Horrors

Every serious bridge player has his private chamber of horrors — the memory of hands he would dearly love to forget. Fortunately for most of us, our horrible crimes take place with no witnesses except the other three players. Just think how ghastly it must be to lay your egg smack in front of 500 keen-eyed bridge enthusiasts.

NO NAMES

As one who has needed mercy in the past and will surely need it again, I am naming no names. It is enough to say that North and South were part of the American team who played against Italy some years ago for the world championship.

North correctly judged that his hand wasn't worth a bid when West overcalled with one spade. It still wasn't worth a bid when East's raise to two spades was passed around to North.

The trouble was that North is justly known as one of the best psychologists in bridge. He thought he could get away with it if he bid three hearts with an assured air.

ITALIANS KNOW

As it happens, the Italians know a thing or two about assured airs. There was nothing uncertain about East's penalty double of three hearts.

Five hundred spectators watched the electrical board mark up North's bid of three hearts, and 500 of them held their breath. They didn't have to hold it long.

South strtggled through the play of this hopeless hand and finally produced six tricks for a loss of 800 points. And all this time, North had to sit there stolidly, as the dummy, feeling 500 pairs of eyes on him as he reached for each horrible card in his ghastly dummy.

TAKE A TIP

Aren't you happy it didn't happen to you? Take a tip from me. Put this hand in your scrapbook so that you can take it out and look at it when everything seems to be going wrong. It will be a great comfort to know that things could be worse.

EAST MEETS WEST

The English riding attire of Liselotte Klemm (left) and the Western duds on Barbara Dreshsel symbolize a striking contrast in equestrian style. Both styles will be represented at the 12th Annual California State Horseman High Point Horse Show Saturday and Sunday. There will be 32 classes —16 English, 16 Western —ranging from the "Tom Thumb" class for six years and under, to the adult competition, 18 and over. Riding begins on both days at 8:30 a.m. at the Circle V Stables in Fairfax.

Ski Trip Set For Teen-Agers Of San Rafael

A three-day ski trip for San Rafael teen-agers in grades nine through 12 will be sponsored March 28-30 by the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department.

The trip is open to San Rafael residents or others who attend San Rafael schools.

The trip will be to Slide Mountain Ski Bowl, Nevada. Lodging will be provided by the Reno Young Men's Christian Association.

Reservations, which must be made by Friday, and further information are available from the San Rafael Parks and Rycreation Department.

Foot Crushed In Motorcycle Accident

A young motorcyclist injured in a freak accident in Mill Valley last Wednesday night fared much worse than a Marin General Hospital report to the Independent-Journal indicated, the youth's mother said Saturday.

Dixie F. McGowen said her son, William, 19, suffered a crushed foot when his motorcycle was involved in a sideswiping collision with an auto. The hospital had said McGowen, of Mill Valley, suffered a fractured toe.

Mrs. Kittelman Back On Job In Fairfax

Marsha S. Kittelman, a key figure in testimony at a hearing into the firing of Fairfax Police Chief James R. Orr, returned to her job as Fairfax police clerk-matron today for the first time since last November.

She was on sick leave from Dec. 1 when she began testifying before the Fairfax Board of Review in connection with Orr's appeal of his dismissal.

Her request for sick leave pay later led to a battle before the Fairfax City Council which voted 3-2 in January to pay her. City Administrator Robert E. Crowe had refused to pay her because she had twice declined to see the city's official physician.

She was paid sick leave through Feb. 22, Growe said, and had been on leave without pay since.

According to Mrs. Kittelman's attorney, Allan J. Weiss, she did not work Dec. 1 through 20 because she was anxious and unable to sleep and feared reprisals from disclosure in the board of review hearing on her undercover narcotics work.

Although she was prepared to return to work Dec. 20, she fell and fractured a vertebra in her back Dec. 18, said the attorney.

Crowe said she had a note from her doctor authorizing her return to work today.

Among the charges against Orr are that he made Mrs. Kittleman a policewoman without authority, showed favoritism to her and engaged in improper social relations with her.

Driver Treated

Alaska, British Columbia, the state of Washington and the city of Seattle as well as the Yukon Territory are sponsoring the festival.

Jobless Roofer Held In Slaying

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—An unemployed roofer is being arraigned today on charges that he killed a fund-raiser for the California Academy of Sciences whose beaten and stabbed body was found on nearby San Bruno Mountain.

Raymond C. Styles, 24, who said he was from Vermont, was returned on Saturday from New Mexico where he was arrested last Thursday while driving the victim's car through Albuquerque.

The body of Raymond L. Fine- out, 38, director of development for the academy in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park, was found March 5 by hikers.

Last-Minute Candidate Disqualified In Race

A last-minute candidate for Marin County supervisor in the Fourth District was disqualified today by the county elections office for failing to have his nomination papers signed by voters registered in the district.

Vincent Saccomanno, a 39-year-old architect who lives at Drake's Beach Estates, both picked up and filed his nomination papers on Friday just before the close of filing for the June 6 election.

The state Election Code requires nomination papers be signed by 20 voters registered within a supervisorial candidate's district. Saccomanno, however, filed nomination papers signed by voters from throughout the county, the elections office reported.

His disqualification leaves four candidates in the race: attorney Gary Giacomini of Woodacre, and three San Rafael residents: Michael R. Peevey, a lobbyist and research director for the California Labor Federation; James Dougan, an insurance agent, and Patricia Maginnis, a laboratory technician.

The incumbent, Louis H. Baar, is not seeking reelection to a second four-year term.

Germans Like Their Wine — White Best

FRANKFURT (UPI)—West Germans, best known as beer drinkers, spent 20 million marks ($6.2 million) on wine in 1971, according to the Frankfurt Institute for Market Research.

The wine drinkers showed a marked preference for white wines. Eighty-four per cent of the total was white, compared with 13 per cent red and 3 per cent rose.

Two Autos Hit Driver 'Sleepy'

Two cars belonging to Jim D. Davis and parked in front of his house at 1605 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, were hit Saturday by a car driven by Bartolome A. Federico, 46, of San Francisco.

Federico, according to police, said he fell asleep at the wheel. He was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut knee.

Federal Rug Standards Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Consumer Affairs adviser Virginia H. Knauer said today the government may set comprehensive new standards for rugs and carpets unless the industry does a better job of selfregulation.

Mrs. Knauer said the Federal Housing Authority has begun setting minimum acceptable standards for rugs as part of the purchase price in homes with federally guaranteed mortgages.

She predicted even wider standards if the industry repeated last year's action in rejecting a grading system.

The FHA regulations should be in effect by January, Mrs. Knauer said in a speech prepared for top members of the Carpet and Rug Institute at Boca Raton, Fla.

WORD-A-DAY

Auto Accident Study Proposed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill authorizing a study to determine if the use of only small cars could reduce the number and severity of automobile accidents has been proposed by Sen. David A. Roberti, D-Los Angeles.

"Studies show that if two small cars were involved in an accident, "Roberti said, "there would be less damage and injury than in accidents involving two large cars or a large and a small car."

The lawmaker said Sunday the study would be conducted by the Institute of Transportation and Traffic Safety at UCLA. He said the measure would be introduced today.

Drake's Annual 'Maytalk' Session Slated Wednesday

Drake News Bureau

The annual Sir Francis Drake High School "Maytalk" meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday in the school's Little Theater, San Anselmo.

Maytalk is an opportunity for adults and students to discuss common problems and interests. Included will be a discussion of what the student body considers to be its educational needs.

A student task force currently is involved in redesigning the curriculum of Drake to make school more relevant to changing times. Teachers, parents and community members also are taking part in the project.

After the general meeting, participants will break up into small groups to discuss further topics they are interested in.

Plans For Art Festival Announced

The Sausalito Arts Association has voted to sponsor a Memorial Day weekend festival, tentatively named the Sausalito Spring Art Festival, according to association member Warren B. Logan.

He said the association will try to obtain use of Central School for the festival featuring Marin County artists.

Committees will be appointed at Wednesday's meeting, he said.

Burglars Caught In Act, Jailed

A Belvedere woman routed three burglars from her home Saturday and notified police, leading to the trio's arrest.

Mrs. Zane McDonnell of 132 Bella Vista Avenue told police she heard noises at 12:30 a.m., went downstairs and found two men and a woman piling up property and food in her house. When she surprised them, they had gathered a mirror, two cans of root beer and a half gallon of ice cream, according to police.

Two of the three were caught by Tiburon sheriff's deputies 30 minutes later in an automobile northbound on Highway 101 near Tiburon Boulevard. The third was arrested about 5:30 a.m. in San Rafael.

All three were booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of burglary. They are Sue Shrout, 27, of 20 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo; Steven C. Gardner, 22, of 21 Hays Street, San Rafael, and Edward John Bonadeo, 24, of 172 Via La Cumbre, Greenbrae.

The trio was to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Lecture Slated

A lecture on transcendental meditation and its role in daily life will be offered by John Andrews of San Rafael at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. auditorium in San Rafael.

25% Population Hike Forecast

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A presidential commission believes that the U.S. population will increase nearly 25 per cent by the year 2000, accompanied by growing economic and environmental problems.

The Commission on Population Growth and the American Future recommended that American couples limit themselves to two children.

The commission, after two years of research, concluded in its weekend report to President Nixon and Congress that the current population of 208 million would swell by 50 million over the next 28 years.

Fifth-Graders Are Junior First-Aiders

The Red Cross has been famous for teaching first-aid by volunteers since 1909, but its junior first-aid course in schools required so many hours to teach that it no longer could be fitted into the curriculum.

Instead, the American Red Cross developed a new basic first-aid course and pioneered it in San Francisco schools last spring.

The course, geared to fifth-grade level reading skills, was offered Marin school districts last June, and by fall the Marin Red Cross chapter began to receive queries.

San Anselmo School District was the first to use the new teaching method and has made first-aid a requirement for graduation from sixth grade.

Currently 12 Marin school districts are teaching first-aid or have ordered the first-aid training materials.

To meet the need for instructors, more volunteers are being trained in first-aid teaching.

Most first-aid instructors are school teachers, but some are registered nurses, housewives and businessmen, such as City of San Rafael administrative assistant John T. Goodale, who teaches first-aid at West End School.

THE GOAL of Red Cross is that all eighth grade students in the county be trained in basic first-aid by spring 1975. In order to reach the goal, 55 persons have been trained as basic first-aid instructors, ranging from Stephen E. Backhus, Tomales Middle School teacher, to Mrs. Elizabeth C. Hiebel, a party cake decorator in Novato.

Mrs. Hiebel recently finished teaching first-aid to 41 Cadette Girl Scouts, and reported, "The girls really enjoyed the course. It was fun for them and most now feel competent to administer first-aid."

Mrs. Hiebel added a personal touch to the course, making up a test at the end of the five weeks of training. She asked the girls' mothers to simulate emergency situations. One mother had an imaginary gash on her leg, another simulated being electrocuted by a faulty iron, falling and breaking her arm. The girls then demonstrated how to stop bleeding, treatment for shock and splinting. They also demonstrated their new skills at a small Scout-a-rama last month.

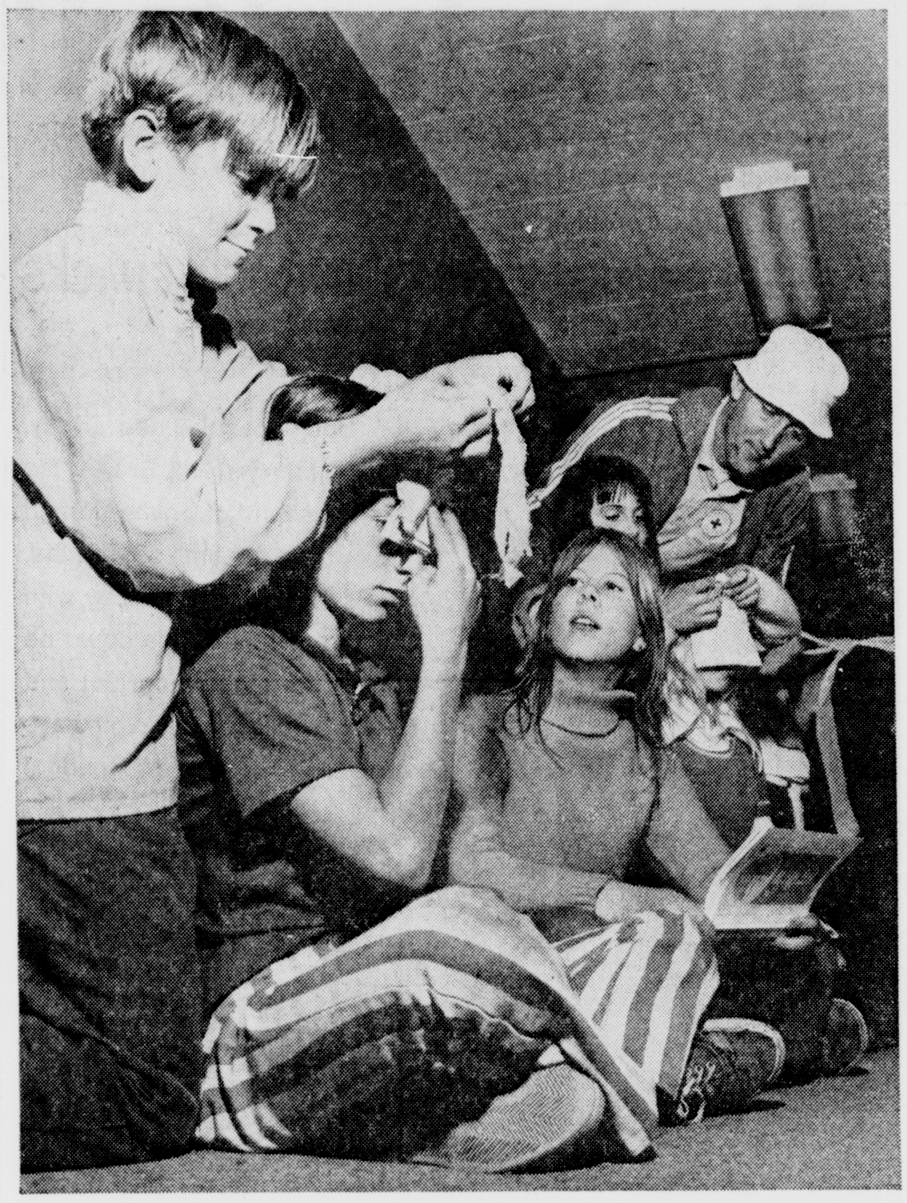

Volunteer Judith H. Peterson took the basic first-aid training with three friends to assist the eighth-grade teacher at Ross School. Mrs. Peterson said the course is also essential for teenagers who do baby-sitting and are responsible for children's lives.

Reed School District approved the course for its schools last year, and district nurse Katherine DeBrecht said first-aid training is essential in an area like the Reed district — in Tiburon — where the children live close to water and are less supervised than in a more built-up area.

SOME 55 children in the fourth and fifth grades at Granada School will complete the first aid course in two weeks. The course materials will be used by other Granada students and then will go to Reed School. Mrs. DeBrecht hopes that all fifth-grade students in the Reed district will be trained in basic first-aid by the end of the 1973 school year. She plans to hold a teacher-parent training session in the district this spring in order to help train the children.

Others who volunteer their training services to help with practice sessions of bandaging, fracture setting, stopping of bleeding and transporting patients are Mmes. Anthony H. Grizzardo, Robert Laurie, William Caddell and Henry J. Broderick.

As to the children's reaction, Mrs. Broderick said, "The children entered into the spirit of the training wholeheartedly and were so earnest in their effort to learn that they would repeat procedures two or three times to be sure they had them right."

Leonid Hambro Due At League Series

Concert pianist Leonid Hambro will present the A.M. program Friday at 10:30 a.m. at the Marin Veterans Memorial Building. "Fun with Music" will be Hambro's topic for the fifth program of the morning series, sponsored by the Family Service League of Marin.

Hambro has appeared with Victor Borge since 1961 in concert appearances and television, including the Ed Sullivan and Mitch Miller Shows, Kraft Music Hall and the Hollywood Palace. Unlike Borge, Hambro will complete selections from Beethoven, Chopin, Mozart and Gershwin when he performs Friday because, he says, he chooses not to leave his audiences in agonized suspense.

He has been pianist-soloist with the New York Philharmonic, the Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and St. Louis symphony orchestras and has appeared under conductors Toscanini, Kostelanetz, Bernstein, Stokowski and Mitropoulos.

LEONID HAMBRO
A. M. performer

Tickets for the program are available at the Marin Memorial Box Office.

A coffee hour, sponsored by the Family Service League, will precede the program.

ON THE AGENDA

Tam Foreign Students Will Be Honored at 'Foreign Fling'

Foreign students attending Tamalpais High School will be honored at the "Foreign Fling" to be sponsored Friday by the Tamalpais Parent-Teacher association and the high school band.

The evening for the whole family will start at 7 p.m. with the serving of a variety of home-made desserts, coffee and punch in Ruby Scott Auditorium. Wearing a foreign costume or hat is encouraged. The 13 foreign students attending Tamalpais will help serve.

For the program the band under the direction of Robert Greenwood will perform an "Around the World Pops Concert."

Mrs. Russell Wallace, P-TA coordinator, has been assisted by Kim Combs of the band and Ty Barbour of the "PI" staff. P-TA committee chairmen working on the event are Mmes. H. C. Houts, food; Ivan Cousins, decorations; Richard Burns, telephone; Raymond Scruggs, tickets; Ken Elkington, set-up; and Fred Nestler, publicity.

Tickets are available at the school book room, from band members, P-TA board members and from Mrs. Scruggs.

THE WOMEN'S Fellowship of the Church of the Oaks in Cotati will held its annual silver tea Friday at 2 p.m. in the church hall, Cotati.

Miss Ruth Anderson of Penngrove will display and relate interesting backgrounds of part of her large collection of unusual bells.

THE JUNIOR League of San Francisco, which includes the Marin membership, will hold its fashion show Friday at the grand ballroom of the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco.

As it did last year, it will present two shows, a luncheon show at noon, and a dinner show at 6:30 p.m. Both shows are sold out, the league reports.

A group of Marinites will model in the shows, which will benefit the Junior League projects such as the Audubon Canyon Ranch at Bolinas, the Chinatown After School program, drug abuse education, the Exploratorium and music and theater previews.

Marin models will be Mmes. James Munson and Lorin Tryon Jr. of Tiburon, Gerald Stratford and John Dreyfous of Belvedere, Eugene Fox and Lee Gammill Jr. of Mill Valley, and Howard Banks and Charles Raven of Kentfield.

SAN PEDRO Parent-Teacher Association will hear Larry Beggs speak on "Drug Abuse and the Family Scene" at a meeting to be held in the library at San Pedro School on Thursday at 8 p.m.

Beggs is a counselor at Marin Open House, working with young heroin addicts and their families. He was formerly a minister in the Congregational Church and was one of the founders of Huckleberry House in San Francisco.

ALCOHOLISM WILL be the topic of Dr. Nicholas Pappas, guest speaker at the Marin District Nurses Association meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday at Marin General Hospital.

Dr. Pappas, a psychiatrist, is director of the Novato Manor Alcoholic Treatment Center in Novato and a staff member at Napa State Hospital. He had residency training at Indiana University Medical Center in Indianapolis and served as chief of the Mental Hygiene Consultation Service at Fort McClellan.

THE LOS GUILICOS Woman's Club of Kenwood will hold its annual spring luncheon and card party Friday at noon at the Old Depot clubhouse. Although a St. Patrick's Day theme will be carried out in the decor, an Italian luncheon will be served.

Reservations chairmen are Mrs. Joseph Da San Martino and Mrs. Alice Newcomb.

THE OFFICERS Wives Club at Hamilton Air Force Base will support Marin Open House as its service project this year. It formerly sponsored a cottage for retarded women at Sonoma State Hospital.

The Hamilton thrift shop will provide all the financial support for the project, according to Mrs. Dwight Huntsvan, service project chairman. The club members will furnish lunch one day a week at the Marin Open House.

Mrs. Charles Cross, a member of the Officers Wives Club, also answers the telephone one day a week as volunteer at the drug rehabilitation center.

THE CATHOLIC Community Service, Petaluma Branch, will hold a special meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Leo Pacheco of Petaluma to discuss preparations for the annual black and white ball on March 22.

MRS. RUTH Moscrop, Novato astrologist, will speak at the Novato Newcomers Club luncheon to be held at the Windjammer restaurant in Tiburon on Wednesday. The social hour will be held at 11 a.m. and lunch will be served at noon.

Mrs. George Jones Jr. will be installed as president. Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Michael Lapham, Emile Patrick, Orvel Olsen and George Jones Jr.

THE WOMAN'S Society of Christian Service of the Novato United Methodist Church will have an Easter bazaar and luncheon in the church social hall on Thursday. The bazaar will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and a buffet lunch will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Special luncheon reservations for groups are accepted by Mrs. Pat Cody, chairman of the luncheon.

Mrs. Gary Safford is chairman of the bazaar, assisted by Mmes. Dallas Tuck, baked goods; Dollie Cornett, plants; John Davis, posters; and Lois Carr, crafts. Mrs. Jack Rothe is in charge of the new and next-to-new table, and Mrs. Lynn Dowdy is contributing pottery.

ANOTHER MARIN entrant in the KABL St. Patrick's Day snake race for charity is the TaMar Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women. Mrs. Richard Greenblat of Fairfax has entered a Marin gopher snake named "Lightin' Goldberg" to compete for charity monies.

Guides The Food Program For 25 Million Children

By MARILYN HOFFMAN
The Christian Science Monitor News Service

NEW YORK — Margot Higgins is a comfortable looking grandmother whose office is at the rear end of the sprawling CARE (Cooperative for American Remittances Everywhere) headquarters at 660 First Avenue here.

But her motherly and grandmotherly concern reaches over continents, encircles the globe, and her "family" in any given year is likely to number 25 million hungry children who gobble the food she somehow gets meted out to them.

Malnutrition, she says, afflicts half the children in the world. She and CARE are equipped only to help prevent it, with feeding programs for children, baby clinics, preschool centers, and primary schools in 35 countries or areas of the world.

Mrs. Higgins wrote the hefty guide for overseas staff members who run CARE's institutional feeding programs. Her job, she says, is to assure full and good use of food supplies, and that maximum benefits come to those fed.

SHE MADES sure that the food CARE delivers overseas is both nutritious and palatable. And she sees that millions of "CARE cookies" — loaded with milk powder, wheat flour, and oils — are baked and distributed to youngsters in dozens of countries.

Last fall, Mrs. Higgins spent three months in Bangladesh as a child-feeding specialist and advised on how to make the best use of foods donated by the U.S. Government through the United Nations.

In her four years with CARE, she has used a fourth of her time abroad, participating in nutrition programs in Colombia, Panama, Malaysia, India, Ceylon, Turkey, Afghanistan, and Indonesia.

Many races, tribes, or sects expect disaster to befall them if they break a food tabu, she says, and many will go hungry rather than eat foods unacceptable to them. Children, however, are much more relaxed about food preferences, she finds, and do not have such set ideas.

THE HAPPIEST solution is "worldwide food," called CSM. Since it was introduced in 1966, more than 250 million pounds have been shipped each year for use in more than 100 countries. It is a kind of cereal made of corn, soya, and milk; is bland in taste, smooth in texture, and its protein content compares favorably with that supplied by meat, eggs, and milk.

Other commodities sent abroad by CARE, (mainly farm surpluses donated by the U.S. Government) include flour, nonfat dried milk, bulgur wheat, cornmeal, rolled oats, and soy oil.

ANOTHER SOURCE of CARE foodstuffs are the gifts from American food manufacturers.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Lies, Little Or Otherwise Not Always A Good Thing

DEAR HELEN:

Are lies justified sometimes? I think so.

My aunt stopped my nailbiting habit by telling me the nail bits that I couldn't help but swallow would join together in my stomach and "chew" a hole in my intestines. I had visions of a horrible death, so I was literally scared into breaking a bad habit.

By the time I learned this couldn't possibly happen, I no longer felt the urge to chew my nails.

Wehn our children were very young, we lived near a river that had great fascination for them. I told them there was a big wolf down there who would eat them up if they didn't have a grown person along to protect them. Result: we never worried about drowned kids.

Now that our children are grown, they tell me I was totally wrong, and they would never resort to lies in raising a family. But I notice their children get in a lot more trouble than they did, when (in the olden days) parents weren't so committed to truth.

Comments please? —ALTRUISTRIC LIAR, SOMETIMES

DEAR ALS:

The trouble with "justifiable" lies is: while they may accom plish their immediate purpose, they can also build distrust in children.

Your youngsters swallowed the "wolf" story. But how many times later on did they privately question your truthfulness? Perhaps that's why they're raising their families differently: They remember! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I've had a hell of a time convincing Sheila that marriage is a good idea. She's for careers and travel — and love, maybe, but not "till death do us part."

Well, I thought I'd got over that hurdle with a mutual agreement that we'd be free, though married, and her career in publishing would be as important as mine in advertising.

However, I assumed that children (sometime) would be part of the package. I figured two modern adults could manage a family, plus equal careers; but last night she accused me of trying to lure her into the suburban trap and announced she never planned to have a baby!

What's with modern women? Liberation is great, but with so many of our brainiest females refusing motherhood, where does this leave future generations? In the hands of people who may have inherited second-class intelligence?

I'm not stupid enough to ask "Should I marry the gal?" This is my own decision, and I've made it: we'll stay with an affair, as she wanted in the first place. My question is: If man can swing a career, assume the responsibilities of home and child-raising, why then do women suddenly think they must forego motherhood if they opt for careers? — SOMETIME FATHER

DEAR S.F.:

Perhaps your girl is wise enough to know her limitations. All women shouldn't be mothers: if non-maternal types choose against babies, they may have saved themselves (and the children) a good deal of pain. (They should also choose men who aren't sold on fatherhood.)

But don't judge most females by the "total freedom" women. Give these girls credit for honesty, and then look around for someone who shares you views.

It's really not that difficult, combining a career with marriage and a family, says this columnist who has happily traveled the course. May you soon find a wife who agrees with me. — H.

Vaccines' Safety Factor Questioned

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — Federal officials are finally taking steps to require that widely used vaccines be effective as well as safe.

Although there has been no doubt about the authority of the government to require that vaccines be safe, pure and potent, there has been considerable question whether that authority includes power to police effectiveness.

Unitl Congress passed the Kefauver amendments in 1962, the government did not have authority to require that drugs be effective as well as safe. Last-minute changes in the amendments struck out vaccine references from the bill, raising confusion over whether they were included as drugs.

It was not until recently that the confusion was finally resolved as far as the Department of Health, Education and Welfare is concerned. It published an official notice proposing to vest that authority in the Division of Biological Standards (DBS)

DBS has been policing vaccines under authority of the Public Health Service Act rather than the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, the basic law administered by the Food and Drug Administration. The latest order is designed to clear up confusion over authority to police vaccine effectiveness.

But the order is only the first step. Before the agency can begin to enforce its newly declared authority, it must issue regulations spelling out how the drug industry must prove effectiveness before marketing vaccines.

The process of setting standards can consume many months and years.

Pressure to tighten government control over vaccines intensified last year after a disgrunted research microbiologist, J. A. Morris, made extensive accusations of misconduct and incompetence within DBS.

He charged in effect that many popular vaccines present more risks to human health than the diseases they are supposed to prevent. He said the agency had been prevented from taking strong action in these matters by a close association between government and industry officials.

He cited evidence purporting to show that numerous vaccines not only are of little value but may cause physical harm. Of the 19 vaccines licensed in this country, only four have not been questioned by foreign experts. They are vaccines for polio, measles, diphtheria and tetanus.

Morris, who was a former DBS control officer for influenza vaccines, said influenza shots are not only ineffective but contain "toxic properties" capable of poisoning people and "extraneous bacteria" that can cause fetal damage. He estimated that the public spends $100 million a year on flue shots.

MORRIS WAS transferred to another job when he protested that he was prevented from communicating his doubts to other key scientists in the field. He charged that DBS researchers who question the safety or efficacy of popular vaccines are harassed; he said objective work is thus discouraged.

Among the other vaccines criticized by Morris are ones to prevent mumps, rabies, chicken pox, whooping cough and cholera. He said records on adverse reactions to vaccines were kept secret from research workers at DBS.

Since Morris leveled his charges, the Government Accounting Office has confirmed them in a report due to be issued soon, according to aides to Sen. Abraham Ribicoff (D-Conn.)

Rafa-El Format New This Year

Camp Rafa-El, the summer day camp at he Marin Jewish Community Center in San Rafael, will offer separate swimming and back packing session for the first time this year, according to Barbara Figone, the center's youth program director.

Two swim sessions and a back-pack session are being scheduled in addition to the two four-week day sessions of regular camp. Camp Rafa-El traditionally offers arts, camp crafts, cookouts, overnight camping, games, dramatics and field trips to approximately 400 kindergarten through sixth-grade children from Marin County and San Francisco.

"Children will be placed in advanced skill groups according to their interests and abilities," Miss Figone said. "Some swimmers will learn water polo, others can receive Red Cross certified life saving training."

Brochures about the sessions are available from the community center.

WOMEN'S DAY

Russians' Holiday Like A Valentine

By CHARLOTTE SAIKOWSKI
The Christian Science Monitor News Service

MOSCOW — At Lyudmila's the throngs of shoppers would have put Macy's basement to shame.

In the lingerie section a red-cheeked soldier in long gray-blue overcoat valiantly withstood the onslaught of elbowing females to buy a nylon slip. In the dress department unidentifiable arms reached out from all directions to snatch up cotton print frocks the moment they appeared on the rack. And in the perfume wing a portly middle-aged gentleman in Astrakhan hat pummeled his way to the counter to purchase a costly bottle of "Jasmine."

"Take 'Red Moscow,' it's only two-fifty," the blond perfume sales clerk advised a scruffy looking little boy, letting him sniff the bottle in an uncommon display of helpfulness.

EBULLIENCE WAS in the air — and for a reason. It was the eve of Women's Day and as men scrambled to buy flowers and trinkets for wives and mothers-in-law, women rushed to beauty parlors to primp for husbands and sons.

The big celebration March 8 abounded in gift giving, parties, and official hosannas to the role of Soviet women in building communism.

Established as an observance of the Second International Conference of Women Socialists in Copenhagen in 1910, International Women's Day here has become more meaningful with each passing year (there is no Mother's Day or Valentine's Day). And since 1966 it has been a nonworking holiday.

Factories and farms presented their best female employees with awards. Schoolboys presented teachers with flowers. And in honor of the day, women were sent home from work early so they could shop.

And shop they did.

"It's been a nightmare!" exclaimed Lyndia Perevoznikova, director of Lyudmila, one of Moscow's largest women's clothing stores.

In the past two weeks, she said, the number of shoppers jumped from an average 15,000 to 25,000 a day, and sales leaped accordingly. Customers, moreover, scorned the cheap products and asked for the better-made, more expensive items, which are often in short supply.

"They come even from the villages and ask for 300-ruble coats with fur trim," she commented with a warm laugh.

Mrs. Perevoznikova, who runs a 27-million-ruble-a-year business for the state, is herself a vivid example of the attainments of Soviet women, who today are better educated, more highly placed, and more fashionably dressed than ever before.

ALTHOUGH THEY have not won (or struggled for) full equality with the men, they can point with pride to the tremendous contribution they make to society.

Composing more than half the work force, they account for about 75 per cent of the doctors and teachers and 60 per cent of the economists. They are not only subway drivers, street sweepers, and bricklayers — as the average Western tourist usually sees them — but mathematicians and engineers.

On the negative side is the fact that they do not share political power with the men, are underrepresented in executive and managerial positions, and predominate in the lower paid and less prestigious fields.

But on this Women's Day, the 54th in the Soviet Union, the women were not preoccupied with things political or professional. Rather did they look for those material comforts and conveniences that will liberate them in the home and add that touch of glamour and color to life that is still so lacking here.

And what do they want from the men?

Mrs. Perevoznikova, a mother of two grown children, fell thoughtful. "I would like — although I am hardly 18 anymore — above all attentiveness," she replied. "When a woman does not feel she is liked and respected, she does not even want to comb her hair."

THESE DAYS women are promisd at least that. In families across the land they were showered with gifts. Their homes were awash in mimosa, violets, and jonquils. Their menfolk have vacuumed the floors and, in some cases, prepared (or scorched) the meals. And in the evening there were dances, theaters, and get-togethers.

Over 30 Years Experience in Nutrition
HERE'S HEALTH!
By JUNE EMBURY

Have you ever tried making your own cottage cheese? It is easy to do and gives you protein of a superior quality, with all of the lifegiving nutrients intact! I make it frequently — here is my recipe.
Pour four quarts of certified raw milk into a bowl and keep in a warm spot to sour. The milk will clabber naturally in about 3 or 4 days, depending on the temperature in your kitchen. You can speed up the souring process by adding two tablespoons of buttermilk.
When the milk has the consistency of custard it is ready to be cut into squares. Stir gently and let stand until the curd separates from the whey - about one hour. Put into a cheesecloth and hang up to drain. You will get a good quart of cheese. Save a little of the whey as a starter for your next batch.
I use nylon organdy as a cheesecloth, it is so much easier to clean than the ordinary kind.

FABRIC SECRETS

JOAN CROSSLEY

Man's earliest production of man-made cloth was through the use of cellulose, but today he makes many fibers without using cellulose through chemical processes. Acrylic, spandex, nylon, polyester, saran, rubber: these are just a few non-cellulose man-made products. We're lucky that man is so resourceful, because non-cellulose fibers are very strong. Usually they do not allow dirt to penetrate easily, they are non-allergenic, and they dry quickly.
Today more and more women are making clothes for themselves and their families. They take pride in producing these original designs, just as we at FABRIC LAND, 836 4th St. take pride in keeping our stock full of beautiful fabrics for their selection. 'Elijah' Superb, Thrilling Concert

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

A superb performance of Mendelssohn's crowning achievement, the oratorio "Elijah," received a well deserved standing ovation yesterday afternoon at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Mill Valley.

Sung by a chorus of 135 voices of the combined Winifred Baker Chorale of Marin and the San Francisco Civic Chorale directed by Mrs. Baker, the work was a thrilling experience for many reasons. It was one of the best performances I have heard by Mrs. Baker's choruses.

She was in top form, controlling the well balanced chorus as though she were playing on a mighty organ and maintaining the exalted mood of the work to perfection. Soloists were excellent, particularly James Tippey. His powerful, ringing bass and moving interpretation were exciting in the role of Elijah — organ and piano accompaniment were unusually good — and the church itself played a starring role because of its magnificent acoustics and beauty.

Here, music lovers of Marin, is a concert hall indeed. Its wood pews may not make the most comfortable seats, but it has a 900-seat capacity —about half filled yesterday —and the rich, mellow resonance produced by bricks, wood and glass lends beauty and depth to the timber of every voice or instrument.

Acoustics added clarity to the good diction of the chorus and soloists, too, so that it was possible to understand almost every word of the biblical story of the great prophet Elijah and God's chastisement of the Israelites for their worship of heathen gods. Also making for clarity and easy understanding were the soaring, unembellished melodies that are so different krom the highly ornamented baroque works.

Other soloists were soprano Marian Marsh, alto Mildred Owen and tenor Dan Parkerson. Miss Marsh's lustrous tonal quality and vocal control made her aria "Hear Ye, Israel" a high point of the afternoon. Miss Owen was most impressive in the role of Queen Jezebel, where a somewhat excessive vibrato served dramatic character and situation.

Parkerson's tenor did not have perfect purity, but he sang the role of the priest Obadiah and other passages very well. The clear, sweet and youthful voice of soprano Katherine Baxter was ideal for a child.

The chorus, like most amateur groups, was not always precise in achieving simultaneous attacks and releases on some words and phrases, but they were knife-edge sharp in the beginnings and endings of the great climaxes.

Outstanding in Part I were the choruses of exhortation to the God Baal and the finale "Thanks Be To God." In Part II the triumphs were the aria telling of Elijah's ascent to heaven in the fiery chariot and the finale "And Then Shall Your Light Shine Forth."

Wilbur Russell at the organ on the right side of the chorus and Alice Hongell at the piano on the left side achieved a remarkable blend of sound enhancing the sonority of the whole yet permitting them to be heard as excellent performers themselves.

'Rabbi In Residence' Installed At Church

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—To the beat of hard rock and pulsating psychedelic lights, a 72-year-old Jewish leader was installed Sunday as a "Rabbi in Residence" at free-wheeling Glide Memorial United Methodist Church.

"We hope to announce in the very near future that we will have in residence a Roman Catholic priest," said Glide's Rev. Cecil Williams, who is "spiritual adviser" to black militant Angela Davis.

Rabbi Abraham L. Feinberg, saying "the older I get the more radical I get," waved a black-and-white striped cane at the hand-clapping congregation, which included Sammy Davis Jr.

"I want you to know that I received this cane from Ho Chi Minh," said the author, singer and antiwar Rabbi. "I am a revolutionary. I'll always be one. I am backing Angela Davis for her moral courage and intellectual freedom representing all peoples on earth."

Services began with a rock and roll band and booming amplifiers providing the beat for a couple of young girls, who did a go-go dance on the steps of the altar.

"This is the time to get together, to think of love, about people," Williams said while the band rested.

The band then played the Beatles' tune "Let It Be," followed by a hippie-garbed chorus singing "In That Great Gettin' Up Morning."

Feinberg, Rabbi Emeritus of Canada's leading Jewish congregation in Holy Blossom Temple in Toronto, and a former 1930s radio balladeer under the name "Anthony Frome," clapped along.

Children's Theater Program

The Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts has announced the start of a theater program for children, with the opening performance set for April 1.

Both adults and children will be included in the cast of the musical fairy tale, "Gretchen and the Lonely Goblin," the inaugural production. The performing group ultimately hopes to tour schools.

Marney McArthur, publicity director for the children's program, said the center is seeking suggestions for young people to name the new theater project. Persons may write to the Mill Valley Center — Children's Theater, P. O. Box 31, Mill Valley.

"Gretchen and the Lonely Goblin," by Mary Brauer of San Francisco, will be performed at 1 and 3 p.m. at the center, 267 Buena Vista Avenue, under the direction of Donald Stubbs. Music is by Richard Vartanian.

The cast of nine adults and six children includes Reginald Woods, Mrs. McArthur, Benita Truman, Myra Breen, Craig Scott, David Silverman, David Ames, William Teed, Dori Baber, Mara Faith, David Potovsky, Dean Schulman and Laurie Truman. Miss Truman is the youngest of the performers, at 8.

Performances of "Gretchen" will continue at 1 and 3 p.m. each Saturday in April. Tickets are available at the Art Store and at the bus depot, both Mill Valley.

Invitation For Mrs. MacArthur

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Mrs. Douglas A. MacArthur, widow of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, has been invited by President Ferdinand E. Marcos of the Philippines to attend the 30th anniversary ceremonies of the Battle of Bataan.

The commemoration is planned April 9, exactly 30 years from the day that Gen. Jonathan C. Wainwright gave up defending Bataan —a peninsula on the largest of the Philippine Islands —against the Japanese in World War II.

MacArthur, in charge of U.S. forces in the Philippines, fulfilled his vow, "I hall return," by retaking the islands after an invasion that began Oct. 20, 1944.

Sensitivity Dominant In Domenico Concert

By ROBERT M. NESS

Musical sensitivity and professional excellence predominated yesterday afternoon when Marin's phenomenal Orchestra Piccola joined musicians from San Domenico School for an "Orchestra da Camera Concert" at the school's Alumnae Hall before a capacity audience of about 250.

Under the baton of Hugo Rinaldi, these student musicians performed a diverse program with a facility comparable to professionals.

Eliane Lust and Elizabeth Wheeler, piano students of Faith France, the Director of Music at San Domenico, soloed with the orchestra.

Miss Lust, a sophomore, opened the program with the Allegro from Bach's D Minor Concerto. She played with confidence and rhythmic drive while her dynamic shadings were beautifully balanced by the orchestra.

The Allegro from Mozart's A Major Piano Concerto was performed by Miss Wheeler, a senior who also is the pianist and harpsichordist for the Orchestra Piccola.

This work, demanding for both pianist and orchestra, was marked with expressive maturity. Mozart's delicate instrumentation sparkled under Rinaldi's direction. The horrendous horn passages were admirably handled by Brian McCarthy and Gwyneth MacArthur.

Lu Ann Fisher, a San Domenico junior, is not only a violinist in the Orchestra Piccola, but also an extremely talented soprano vocalist.

She sang the dramatic "Songs of Separation" by William Grant Still with a musical sensitivity, poise, and dramatic projection that belied her years.

Pianist Richard Secrist joined clarinetist Steve Gordon for the solor parts in Prokofieff's "Overture on Hebrew Themes". Gordon, who recently soloed with the Marin Youth Orchestra in Mozart's "Sinfonia Concertante", possess a beautiful clarinet sound. This work, with its predominating march like rhythms, was the most exciting offering by the orchestra.

The combined voices of the San Domenico Singers, the Schola Cantorum, and the Freshman Chorus concluded the program with Randall Thompson's "Frostiana" based on poems by Robert Frost. These romantic Americana songs were given a fresh and lively interpretation by these girls.

Photos, Ceramics Shown In Greenbrae

A father-and-son show of photographs and ceramics is on display through April 28 in the Ross Valley Medical Clinic in Greenbrae.

The photographs are by Ernest Braun, photographer and author of the prize-winning book, "Living Water." The ceramics mark the first showing for his son Jonathan. The Brauns live in San Anselmo.

Flood Bond Issue Will Be Discussed

Costs of a bond issue for flood control work will be discussed by the San Rafael Meadows Flood Control Zone Advisory Board at a meeting at 8 p.m. March 23 in Faith Lutheran Church, 355 Los Ranchitos Road.

Charles E. Murphy, county flood control engineer, said the board also will discuss the proposed 1972-73 budget for the zone.

Palo Alto Orchestra, Chorus Due

An orchestra and chorus from Palo Alto will be conducted by Adolph Baller in a free public concert at 8 p.m. Sunday in Angelico Hall at Dominican College, San Rafael.

The college calendar of spring events on campus incorrectly lists the date as March 20.

The program will include Mozart's Requiem and Schubert's Symphony No. 5 in B Flat, presented by members of the Musical Repertory Theater, and William Whitson's Palo Alto Chamber Orchestra, augmented by woodwinds and brass.

Guest soloists will be soprano Elith Zitelli, alto Marcia Hunt, tenor Donald Andrews and bass Douglas Stobie.

Baller, pianist and teacher, will be conducting a chorus for the first time, and the musical repertory theater is also changing format from its usually staged performances. The concert will be the first Marin appearance of the two groups.

Roger H.C. Donlon, an Army captain, was the first American to win the U.S. Medal of Honor in Vietnam.

Marichal Throttles Cleveland

SUN CITY, Ariz. (UPI) — Probably the only thing hotter than the 92-degree heat in Phoenix Sunday were Juan Marichal and Dave Kingman.

Marichal, making his first outing of the spring for the San Francisco Giants, yielded only one hit in hurling an impressive first three innings against the Cleveland Indians. He threw 42 pitches and 30 of them were strikes.

Southpaws Ron Bryant and John Cumberland followed Marichal and protected the 8-0 shutout of the Indians who got only four hits. That gave the Giants a 4-1 record in the Cactus League.

Kingman, the 6-6 outfielder turned third baseman, hit a two-run homer in the fifth off Steve Hargan. The blow traveled 390 feet over the leftfield fence.

On Saturday, Kingman also blasted a three-run homer off former Giant Gaylord Perry to pace the Giants to a 10-1 win over the Indians at Tucson. The Giants got to Perry for five runs in the first three innings.

Today the Giants go to the retirement community of Sun City Northwest of Phoenix to play the San Diego Padres in an exhibition game.

Marichal, who has signed a two-year, $280,000 package contract, struck out the side in the first inning and added another whiff in the second. He showed he is ready to open the season tomorrow.

Willie Mays also bashed a leadoff home run, his second of the spring, and Dick Dietz doubled home three runs in the Giants' five-run first inning against starter and loser Dick Tidnow.

A's Expect Vida Blue

Unsigned Pitcher Driving In

MESA, Ariz. (UPI) — Holdout pitcher Vida Blue is expected to wheel his blue Cadillac into the training base of the Oakland Athletics today but it will be awhile before he pitches.

Blue has not yet signed his 1972 contract. There's about a $42,000 difference between the amount of money the star lefthander wants this season and the $50,000 owner Charles O. Finley has offered last year's Cy Young Award winner and most valuable player in the American League.

Vida is driving into Mesa from his home in Mansfield, La., as Finley revealed last week. Finley is not in Mesa at the moment but there's a chance he may fly to Arizona in an effort to break the deadlock with his lefthanded pitcher.

According to reliable sources around the A's training camp, if Blue doesn't sign by Wednesday or Thursday, he will go to California to confer with his agent, attorney Robert Gerst of Los Angeles.

Meanwhile, righthander Denny McLain, whom the A's obtained from the Dallas Rangers as "insurance" in case Blue doesn't pitch this year, was shelled for 10 runs by the Milwaukee Brewers Sunday in his Oakland debut.

He allowed eight hits and walked six in his first three-inning stint of 1972. The Brewers wound up with a 14-4 victory over the A's.

Tommy Davis of Oakland hit a homer off Ken Brett in the second inning.

Marin 'Cats Blank Ukiah In Baseball

Although playing in what coach Gary Hughes called "a different world," Marin Catholic High School's baseball team made sure it was the opposition that suffered culture shock Saturday when it dedefeated host Ukiah, 3-0.

In other action involving Marin County Athletic League teams, Tamalpais split a doubleheader with visiting Hogan of Vallejo, losing 6-5 in ten innings and winning 10-2 in five. Terra Linda fell to invading St. Ignatius of San Francisco, 2-1, and Redwood succumbed at Monterey, 14-5.

Marin Wildcats' Don Bianchini set down defending North Bay League I champion Ukiah on four hits, striking out 12 batters. He was in serious trouble only in the seventh inning, when Ukiah put runners on second and third with nobody out, but shortstop Steve Sherry made a backhanded stab of a line drive in short left field and doubled the runner off third.

Chuck Louderback singled home the 'Cats first run. Paul Riccardi scored the second tally on the front end of a double steal, and also scored the third on a squeeze bunt by Pete Arbios.

The game was on television and radio in the Ukiah area. "The local papers also had a big write-up the night before," said Hughes. "It's a whole different world."

Tamalpais' Dave Thomsett went two-for-three and Dolan Beard and Kevin Brink drove in two runs apiece as the Indians won the darkness-shortened nightcap behind Alton Hardy's three-hit pitching.

Hardy drove in two runs in the lengthy opener, but it was not enough, as Hogan rallied for a single, error, and single in the top of the tenth for the victory.

Redwood yielded eight runs to Monterey in the fourth inning, on the strength of five hits, four walks, three errors and a hit batsman.

Wes Emerson's fifth-inning single drove in Brian Wall with Terra Linda's only run against St. Ignatius. Mike Allen had two hits for the Trojans.

Novato Gal Falls In Golf

One of these years Melinda Bailey of Novato is going to win the San Francisco Women's Amateur golf title.

For the fifth time, Mrs. Bailey made it to the finals and for the fifth time she lost. This time it was 17-year-old Pam Palmieri of Santa Rosa who defeated Mrs. Bailey, 1 up, yesterday at Harding Park.

Mrs. Bailey, wife of College of Marin track-field coach Tony and mother of three, started out very poorly, five over par after the first four holes to go three down, and ended the front nine with a seven over par 44.

At one time Mrs. Bailey was down five holes to the senior from Ursuline High School in Santa Rosa, but fought back to tie the score on two occasions.

In the morning round, Miss Palmieri shot an 81 and Mrs. Bailey 86. In the afternoon round, the winner shot 81 again, and Melinda had a 78.

Warriors Dumped By Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Golden State and Seattle might as well of taken Sunday off.

Instead, both played and both lost to keep the Warriors two games ahead of the Supersonics in their fight for the final playoff spot in the Pacific Division of the National Basketball Association.

Golden State succumbed to Nate Archibald and the Cincinnati Royals 117-106 while Milwaukee dumped the Spencer Haywoodless Sonics 109-99.

The Warriors have eight games remaining, including two at home. The Sonics have six road games left.

Archibald scored 46 points which was more than Nate Thurmond (24) and Jeff Mullins (18) combined. The Warriors had trouble finding the basket on an off-night.

Cincinnati pulled away from a 33-29 first period lead to outscore Golden State 19-8 in the last six minutes of the second quarter to take a commanding 62-48 halftime bulge.

Led by Thurmond, the Warriors closed the gap to eight points at the end of the third period, 88-80, but couldn't get any closer.

The Warriors are heading for Boston where they shall engage the Celtics Tuesday night.

WRINKLED WINNER — Golfer Jerry Heard grimaced after sinking a birdie shot while winning the Florida Citrus Open Tournament in Orlando yesterday. He won by two strokes over Bobby Mitchell.

BY 2 STROKES

Heard Victorious In Citrus Tourney

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI)— Young Jerry Heard figures winning golf tournaments is a lot sweeter when you don't have to share the prize money with someone else.

"It used to be that winning was all-important," the 24-year-old Californian said after capturing the Florida Citrus Open and $30,000 Sunday.

But Jerry recently ended a deal he had with a group of 10 financial backers and, as he told his playing partner Lee Trevino on the 18th green Sunday:

"Now the money is really important."

Heard, one of the bright new faces on the pro golf tour, won the Citrus Open by two strokes, shooting a 3-under-par 69 in Sunday's final round and posting a 12-under-par 276 total.

The runnerup, Bobby Mitchell, closed with a fine 6-under par 66 —the same score he shot to grab the first round lead Thursday. But a disastrous 78 Friday ruined the Danville, Va., pro's chances.

Heard started the final round tied for the lead with Texan Chris Blocker who had let a four-stroke lead get away on Saturday. They were a stroke ahead of U. S. Open champion Lee Trevino and two ahead of Jim Jamieson who had shot a record-tying 9-under-par 63 Saturday using a department store putter he had purchased the night before.

Jamieson, who was tied for the lead until late in Sunday's round, wound up with a 70-279 and a tie for third place with Leonard Thompson who had a final 69. Blocker, who complained bitterly the previous day about being bothered by lawn mowers, wound up at 73-280 where he was tied for fifth with George Archer (69), Bruce Crampson (69), Rod Funseth (68) and Bob Murphy (69).

Another stroke back at 281 were the top two names remaining in the tournament — Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player. Nicklaus, who widened his alltime money lead by another $3,600, shot a 69 Sunday while Player had a fine 66.

Napa's Ron Cerrudo earned $222 for his 293 capped by a final round 72.

Seals Smash New York, 7-3

NEW YORK (UPI) — Despite a pair of shell-shocked goalies, the California Golden Seals have redeemed themselves in fun city.

For the first time in 14 games at Madison Square Garden, the Seals beat the New York Rangers 7-3 Sunday to move within one point of Philadelphia in the hectic scramble for the fourth and final playoff spot in the NHL's west division.

Big heroes for the green and gold were rookie goalie Gary Kurt and wings Stan Gilbertson and Reg Leach.

Kurt, who came into the game with a 4.74 goals against average, turned in his first NHL victory by turning out 40 New York shots. A total of 43 shots were unloaded on Kurt by the Rangers.

Within 24 hours, opposing teams fired 97 shots on the Oakland goal. On Saturday night, rookie netminder Gilles Melochie underwent a barrage of 54 Toronto shots as the Seals lost 2-1 to the Maple Leafs.

Gilbertson and newcomer Leach each scored two goals. The other Seals goals against the Rangers were by Dick Redmond, Craig Patrick and Joey Johnston.

California, which got off only 24 shots, scored on three of its seven shots against Gilles Villemure in both the second and third periods. In two previous games at New York this season, the Rangers outscored the Seals 16-2.

It was only New York's fourth loss on home ice this season. The other three were to Boston.

Kurt had lost five times and gained four ties in 12 previous games this season. The victory gave the Seals a 1-4-1 record against the Rangers this season.

California now heads into the NHL stretch with only nine games remaining, including two apiece with Minnesota, St. Louis, Los Angeles and Pittsburgh and a solo match with Philadelphia.

The Seals open a three-game home stand Wednesday night against the Los Angeles Kings. St. Louis visits Oakland Friday night.

JOE SMITH IN AAU TRYOUTS

Joe Smith, College of Marin's 6-1 sophomore guard who became the school's all-time scoring champ this past season, is one of 15 junior college players trying out for a team to play in the National Amateur Athletic Union Tournament.

Smith will be one of the players in the California Junior College Association all-star basketball trials which start next Sunday at Cal Poly in Pomona. The 15 players will be trying for positions on the 10 or 11-man team to represent the CJCA in the National AAU tourney at London, Ky., March 24-28.

Smith, who had already won himself Camino Norte Conference all-star honors, also was an honorable mention all-state selection.

Spider Sabich Wins Bear Valley Slalom

BEAR VALLEY (UPI) — Spider Sabich won the slalom Sunday and ended up as the overall money winner in the two-day Janet Leigh Celebrity pro-am ski tournament.

He defeated Harald Stuefer of Austria to win $4500 in the tournament. Sabich's earnings of $33,900 makes him the leading money winner on the pro skiing tour.

IN TOURNEY

Tam Cagers Shut Out Two Ways

Marin County Athletic League basketball champion Tamalpais High School was completely shut out in last week's Tournament of Champions in the Oakland Coliseum Arena.

Not only were the Indians eliminated in two straight games, losing to Hayward on Thursday, 48-46, and Dublin on Friday, 54-50, but they placed no players on the ten-man all-tournament team.

Star forward Will Garner scored 27 points Friday, but his chances were ruined by a poor first-evening performance (eight points) and by Tam's early elimination. On a per-game basis, he ranked eighth in scoring at 17.5.

Hayward went on to the finals, but fell to San Joaquin Memorial of Fresno, 61-41. It was a close game until the invaders outscored Hayward, 25-5, in the last five minutes.

Bishop O'Dowd of Oakland captured third place by defeating Berkeley, 80-71, and Fremont grabbed the consolation title (fifth place) by shading Dublin, 58-55.

The ten players selected for the all-tournament team were George Duncan and Don Gilmore of Fremont, Rupert Jones and Richard Moore of Berkeley, Scott Tachiera and Mike Moynihan of O'Dowd, Jim Langenstein of Hayward, Clifton Pondexter of Memorial, and the brothers Roberson from Dublin, Larry and Lester.

Marin Cyclists Grab 3 Race Victories

Marin Cyclists club had three class winners yesterday in 20-mile time trial races which drew 25 Northern California bicycle clubs to Pleasanton. The event was sponsored by G. S. Amador bicycle club and the Pleasanton Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mike McCue of the Marin team won first place in Class B, with a time of 51 minutes, 24 seconds. Frank Powell was winner in veterans over 40 class, 51:35, and Diane Merrill was first in women's class, 56.41.

Other Marin placings were by Bill Jenkins, fourth in Class B and David Smiley, third in Class C.

Cal Booters Tip Stanford In Benefit

University of California's Dennis Helas scored three second half goals to push the Bears past Stwnford University's soccer team 4-2 yesterday before 1,800 fans on the College of Marin field in Kentfield.

It was an exhibition match to benefit the Marin Youth Soccer Association.

The first half ended in a 1-1 tie after Cal's Greg Ansell and Stanford's Bob Benedetti each scored goals. Larry Geisse added another Stanford goal in the second half.

In a 20-minute halftime game between 10 and 11-year-old boys, a team from Mill Valley tied a team from Ross, 1-1. Mark Dayton scored for Ross and Hugo de La Roca for Mill Valley in a high-spirited game that threatened to steal the show from the "big guys" from Cal and Stanford.

After the game, both teams and coaches Fred Priddle of Stanford and Bob DiGrazia of Cal were dinner guests at Mount Tamalpais High School section of Katherine Branson School in Ross.

Lacrosse Losses

Both Marin County teams were soundly defeated yesterday by San Francisco in Northern California Lacrosse Association action. The Novato Parks and Recreation Department, competing in the junior class, fell, 812, and the Marin team, competing in the senior class, lost, 14-1.

Weddell Wins Two In Marin Bowling

Mike Weddell, 201 average bowler from San Rafael, was a double winner in the Marin County Bowling Association championship tournament which ended yesterday, according to unofficial results.

Weddell won the singles crown with a 760 three-game series and also took home all-events honors with 2,043 pins in singles, doubles and team events. Team competition took place at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael and singles and doubles at Greenbrae Lanes. The tourney ran from March 4 to yesterday.

Following Weddell in singles were Ray Brusati, 734, and Dave McPherson, 717. Trailing him in all events were Neil Roquemore, 1,968 and Phil Baiocchi, 1,963.

In doubles, Bob Nelson and Auborn Grant teamed up for a 1,493 to take top prize, followed by Richard Colorado-Bill Bernardes, 1,401, and Ron Suhrke-Bob Curry, 1,323. Team winners were Marin Meats, 3,197, Ness, 3,178 and Curry, 3,129.

Bea Nickel Triumphs In Marin Gals' Bowling

Bea Nickel bowled a two-game series of 333 to repel the challenge of Pat Hudnell and win the Marin County Women's 600 Club elimination tournament yesterday at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

The victory earned her the right to represent Marin in the Queens' Tournament in San Jose May 27.

Mrs. Nickel rolled the top four-game scratch series of 785 in the first phase of the tournament, which allowed her to sit idle while other bowlers competed for the right to challenge her.

Fourth-place Bea Hoffmann (734) defeated fifth-place Mitzie Brown (721), 316-301, and third-place Marilyn Epidendio (744), 424-323, before falling to second-place Pat Hudnell (748), 381-372.

The Women's 600 Club also announced the election of Bea Hoffmann as president and June Heimann as sergeant-at-arms, and revealed that its next tournament would be the Best Ball Tourney at Greenbrae Lanes April 8.

Stiff Defense

Sonoma '9' Falls Thrice To Nevada

The Sonoma State College Baseball team lost every thing but the shirts in Reno over the weekend as the Cossacks were humbled 18-5 on Friday and lost both ends of a doubleheader Saturday, 12-3 and 5-3, to a hard hitting University of Nevada at Reno club. The Cossacks now sport an 0-10 record in pre-conference play.

Sonoma State travels to Stockton tomorrow for a doubleheader with University of the Pacific and then moves on to Moraga Wednesday for a game with St. Mary's.

Cossack pitchers were mauled for 20 hits in Friday's game. Reno first-baseman Greg Lusiani hit for the circuit with two home runs, a triple, a double and two singles. Bright spots for Sonoma State were a sixth inning lead-off homer by Rich Garretson and Mark Newsom's three for five hitting performance.

Reno continued to belt Cossack hurling Saturday in the opener, getting to Jim Gogan for 13 hits. Lusiani kept up his heavy hitting with a double in two trips to the plate. Gordon MacLachlan supplied the only power for the losers with a double to right center, driving in Newsom in the fourth.

Reno took nightcap when Joe Tiehm hit a 2-run eighth inning homer. Dale Lyster was the standout for the Cossacks, going two for four with a homer and a double.

Marquette '5' In Legal Bind

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

There was no doubt about Marquette's strength in opening round action of the NCAA tournament Saturday but there is doubt today as to whether the Warriors will advance.

Marquette crushed Ohio University, the Mid-America Conference champion, 73-49 Saturday, apparently advancing to second-round action against Kentucky, the Southeastern Conference titlist. But the NCAA stepped in Sunday, questioning the eligibility of Bob Lackey, the Warriors' senior captain, and Marquette may be eliminated for further competition.

The NCAA Rules Committee first ruled Lackey ineligible Sunday because it believed he had contracted an agent but relented later and will meet today with Marquette officials to discuss the situation. An NCAA staff member said Lackey could clear himself by signing an affidavit stating that he had not contracted an agent.

Three Florida State players signed affidavits prior to their opening round action against Eastern Kentucky but Lackey, on advice from Coach Al McGuire, did not sign.

Should Marquette be ruled ineligible, Ohio University would play Kentucky.

Elsewhere in NCAA opening round competition, Penn ripped Providence 76-60, South Carolina edged Temple 53-51 and Villanova ripped East Carolina 85-70 in the East; Florida State edged Eastern Kentucky 83-81 in the Mideast; Southwestern Louisiana outgunned Marshall 112-101 and Texas upset Houston 85-74 in the Midwest; and Long Beach State downed Brigham Young 95-90 in overtime and Weber State crushed Hawaii 91-64 in the West.

North Carolina captured the Atlantic Coast Conference title with a 73-64 playoff victory over Maryland and Louisville, a two-time loser to Memphis State in the regular season, finally beat the Tigers by 83-72 in a playoff to take the Missouri Valley Conference crown.

The two winners earned berths to the NCAA tournament while Maryland and Memphis State settled for bids to the National Invitation Tournament, beginning next Friday.

Long Beach State, the titlist of the Pacific Coast Athletic Association, prevailed over the BYU Cougars, Western Athletic Conference winners, in overtime as Ed Ratleff showed the way with 21 points.

Laney Upended In Finals

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI) — Santa Monica College today held the California Junior College Association State Basketball Championship, having defeated Laney College of Oakland 81-74 in Saturday night's game for the title, while Contra Costa College, champion of the Camino Norte Conference won the consolation title, defeating Santa Barbara, 88-87.

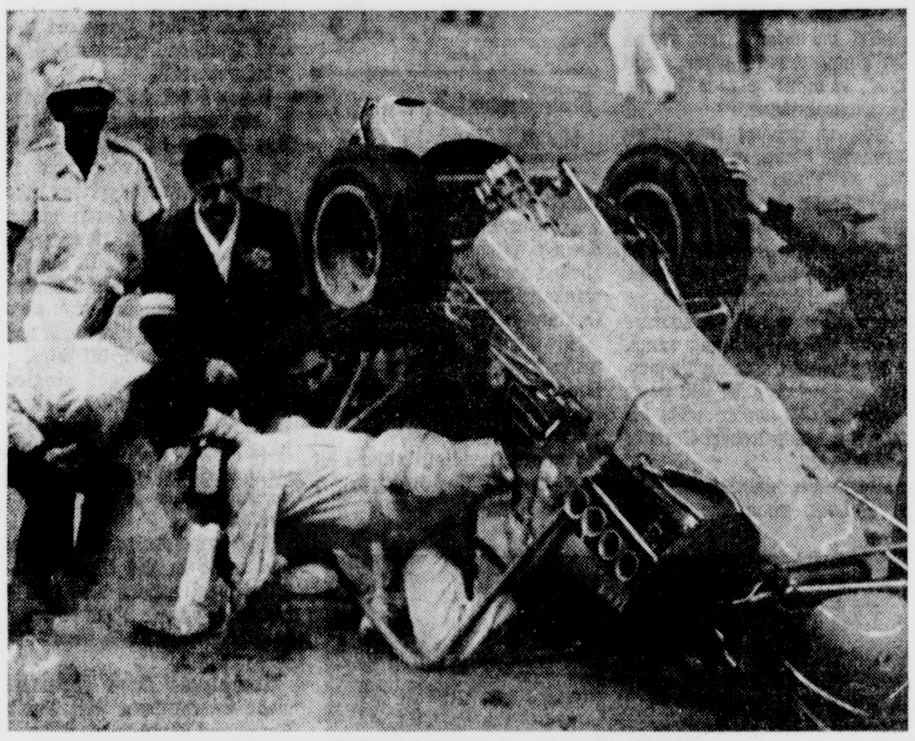

Santa Monica got off to an early lead on the shooting of James Mason and was never headed. The Corsairs shot 70 per cent from the field and held a 49-28 halftime lead.

The closest Laney came to catching Santa Monica was in the second half when it closed the gap to 79-74 just seconds before the game ended.

Santa Monica ended its season with a 26-6 record to replace Long Beach City College as the state champion. Laney was the first northern finalist since 1966.

At the conclusion of the tournament the all-tournament team was announced. It was composed of Brady Allen, Laney, most valuable player; Jay Hanseth, Santa Monica; Brad McNamara, Fullerton; Tyree Foster, Laney; James Mason, Santa Monica and Vince Bean, Rio Hondo.

Fullerton scored a 76-72 victory over Rio Hondo to take third place in the tournament.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Wilbur Wood Sharp In White Sox' Win

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

The bad news for the Chicago White Sox' American League rivals today is that Wilbur Wood's knuckler appears at midseason efficiency.

Wood, who compiled a 22-13 record and 1.91 earned run average for the Chicago White Sox last season while frequently working with two days of rest, is expected to assume a similar workhorse schedule this year and may start as many as 45 games.

The erstwhile reliever with the fluttery knuckleball became the first White Sox pitcher to work more than three innings this spring Sunday when he limited the Kansas City Royals to one run and four hits in five innings of a 5-1 Chicago victory.

WOOD

"We think Wood can handle the work load planned for him," says AL 1971 home run king Bill Melton of the White Sox. "He is actually a better pitcher with two days of rest because he doesn't throw as hard and his knuckler flutters even more than usual.

Steve Kealey and Terry Forster completed the White Sox' fifth win in 10 exhibition games with two shutout innings each.

The Royals, playing their first exhibition game of the spring, scored their run off Wood on a double by Lou Piniella and a single by Bob Oliver in the second inning. Mike Andrews homered for the White Sox.

BRAVES BOUNCED

Tommy John, Bill Singer and Pete Richert combined for a one-hitter —a single by Ralph Garr in the first inning —as the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Atlanta Braves, 3-0. Jim Lefebvre's two-run homer off Mike McQueen in the sixth inning was the big blow for the Dodgers.

The Detroit Tigers won their second straight game when they beat the Boston Red Sox, 7-0, behind the six-hit pitching of Joe Coleman, Fred Scherman and Phil Meeler. A two-run double by Scherman, a triple by Aurelio Rodriguez and singles by Bill Freehan and John Gamble paced Detroit's attack.

BOSWELL CONNECTS

Ken Boswell, who was sidelined with a sore arm last September, drove in both New York runs with an infield out and a double as the Mets defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 2-1. Bob Gibson shut out the Mets on three hits during the first four innings in his spring debut.

George Foster hit a two-run homer and Pete Rose contributed a two-run triple as the Cincinnati Reds downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3. Wayne Simpson, Don Gullett, Tom Hall and Joe Gibbon held the world champions to eight hits. Rose's triple came off Bob Moose in the fifth inning and Foster homered off Bruce Kison in the sixth.

KAAT SHARP

Jim Kaat yielded one hit and struck out five in four innings in the Minnesota Twins' 3-1 triumph over the Houston Astros. Ray Corbin followed Kaat and pitched one-hit ball for the next three innings. Kaat has now allowed only three hits and struck out eight in seven innings this spring.

In other camps: Jeff Burroughs' two-run seventh-inning homer enabled the Texas Rangers to coast to a 6-2 win over the Montreal Expos ... Thurman Munson drove in two runs with a single and a triple and Fred Beene, Rob Gardner and Gary Waslewski combined in a five-hitter to lead the New York Yankees to a 4-1 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles.

Carmen Fanzone's three-run fifth-inning homer lifted the Chicago Cubs to an 8-5 decision over the California Angels.

Tommy Reynolds hit two homers and George Scott and Billy Conigliaro one each for the Brewers.

Rancho Cotate, Sonoma Tie In Swimming

Rancho Cotate High School of Rohnert Park's 400-yard freestyle relay team churned to a victory in the final event to earn a 47-47 tie with Sonoma High School in North Bay-Sonoma County League swim racing Friday. Rancho Cotate's record in NBL-SCL meets is now 3-3-1.

The Cougars had two double took the 50 and 100-yard freestyle races with times of 23.7 and 53.8, and Chris Nissen, who recorded victories in the 200-yard individual medley and the 100-yard breast stroke. Dawson and Nissen combined with Mike Henderson and Geoff Chatfield to take the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Rancho Cotate 47, Sonoma 47

200 medley relay — Sonoma, 2:07.3; 200 free — Mathieu (S), 2:11.6; 200 I.M. — Nissen (RC), 2:20.2; 50 free — Dawson (RC), 23.7; Diving — Carter (S), 153.65; 100 fly — Henderson (RC), 1:10.3; 100 free — Dawson (RC), 53.8; 400 free — Mathieu (S), 5:09.8; 100 back — Clarkson (S), 1:15.2; 10 breast — Nissen (RC), 1:10.3; 400 free relay — Rancho Cotate (Henderson, Chatfield, Dawson, Nissen), 3:45.9.

Sonoma Beaten By Host Chico In Track Meet

The Sonoma State College track team lost its second straight meet Saturday, bowing 12½ points to host Chico State's 126 and San Francisco State's 70½.

Sonoma State's best effort was by Dennis Hudson who took fourth in the hammer throw, breaking the school record with a 130-feet-6½ toss.

Art Spaletta and Mark Casebier placed second and third in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles.

California Tops San Jose In Track, 82-63

BERKELEY (UPI) —Freshman sprinters Chuck Bommarito and Sam Burns and pole vaulter Mike Weidig have transformed the California Bears into a formidable track team.

Burns and Bommarito finished one-two in the 220 and two-three in the 100 in addition to running two fast legs of a winning 440 yard relay team in leading the Bears to an 82-63 dual meet victory over San Jose State Saturday.

Weidig went one foot over his previous lifetime best with a 16-foot pole vault to edge last year's state junior college champ Russ Royal on fewer misses.

Hamilton AFB Sergeant Wins Skeet Shooting Title

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Larry Mobley, an Air Force staff sergeant stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base, has won the Olympic preliminary skeet shooting trials at Menlo Park, the Air Force announced today.

Mobley downed 181 of a possible 200 clay pigeons to qualify for the final Olympic trials and 12th International Skeet Championships June 3-26 in Phoenix, Ariz.

"I figure I'll need a score of 195 or 196 to qualify for the Olympics," he said. "I can get up to that with practice, and I'm going to Lackland Air Force Base (Tex.) on May 1 for some practice.

A native of Phoenix City, Ala., Mobley is vice-president of Hamilton's Rod and Gun Club. His wife, Deborah, is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Nance, 529 Roland Blvd., Novato.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

I dont' usually recommend that bowlers copy my bent-elbow style, but I strongly suggest that they bend their left knee as sharply as I do. This enables a bowler to set the ball out over the foul line at a low angle so there is a minimum of bump as it touches down.

Phoenix Suns Sign Virginia Star Scott

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)— Charlie Scott, who set an American Basketball Association single season scoring record before jumping the Virginia Squires last week signed a contract doday with the Phoenix Suns of the National Basketball Association.

Scott disappeared Friday when he missed a Squires' practice. A night before, Scott had scored 24 points against the New York Nets, hiking his season point total to 2,523, an ABA record.

Scott, a 6-foot-5-inch guard, was expected to finish out the season with the Suns, who have only six games left and will not qualify for the post-season playoffs.

The Suns obtained the NBA rights to Scott Sunday in a trade with the Boston Celtics. The Celtics received an undisclosed amount of cash and also are expected to receive a player or a fulure draft choice from the Suns.

Scott is in his second year as a professional, after having led the Squires to the ABA Eastern Division title in his rookie year.

When Scott disappeared from the Virginia team, Squires' owner Earl Foreman said the North Carolina graduate had told him he considered his contract with the Squires "terminated."

Scott joins Connie Hawkins, the first ABA player to move from the ABA to the NBA, on the Phoenix team.

Yamaha Racer Don Emde Wins Daytona Title

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Don Emde of San Diego averaged 103.358 miles an hour on his Yamaha to outspeed 67 rivals in the Daytona 200 motorcycle championships.

Emde, 21, finished ahead of second place Ray Hempstead of St. Petersburg and third place David Smith of Lakeport, Calif.

National champion Dick Mann of Richmond, Calif., who was shooting for an unprecedented third straight win at the Daytona 200, had to drop out because of fueling trouble on his BSA.

Where do you go to work as a broadcaster, writer, illustrator, or photographer?

You won't believe this, but...

Join the Army Reserve! Right now, we have Bay Area openings in a creative PSYOPS group. Other fascinating jobs include news writing, foreign-language translating, radio station technician and motion-picture projection. It's really a great opportunity to learn these skills and then work part-time at them.

While getting paid for it.

It's hardly work. You can have the fun of associating with "impractical" creative types who manage to keep a practical, skeptical eye on what's relevant in the world. You'll get the kind of creative training that'll really set you up for an exciting civilian lifetime career. Many of our current illustrators are working full time for Bay Area ad agencies. The group also includes foreign correspondents, teachers, and government translators.

Sure, there are qualifications. You've got to have the aptitude and talent for the work—and the tough-minded self-discipline that allows you to reject your own ideas if they aren't right. And sure, you've got to do a short tour (4 to 9 months) of active duty while you learn to develop your talent. You'll draw about $300 monthly and get food, quarters, medical care, and more. After you return home, you'll join the creative group for regular weekend work and can then apply for further specialization.

And you'll be fulfilling your military obligation right here at home.

Obviously, the Army Reserve has changed. We said all this is a little incredible. Think about it... but not too long. This is a popular group.

You better believe it! The Army Reserve.

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF REAL PROPERTY AT PRIVATE SALE
No. 20567

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Marin

In the Matter of the Estate of DARLENE MARY SHIELDS, Deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that GORDON C. SHIELDS, as administrator of the estate of DARLENE MARY SHIELDS, deceased, will sell at private sale, to the highest and best bidder, under the terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned, and subject to confirmation by the Superior Court, on March 23, 1972, at the hour of 9:00 o'clock A.M., or thereafter within the time allowed by law, at the office of CORBETT, WELDEN, KANE & HARTMAN, attorney for the said administrator, at 465 California Street, Suite 1100, San Francisco, California, all the right, title, interest and estate that the estate of DARLENE MARY SHIELDS, deceased, has acquired by operation of law or otherwise, other than, or in addition to, that of said deceased, at the time of her death, in and to all that certain real property situate in the City of Mill Valley, Marin County, California, commonly known as "23 Montecimas Avenue, Mill Valley, California," more fully described as follows:

"Lots 8, 9, 10 in Block D, in the tract of land known as 'Subdivision Number Two, Muir Woods Park', as said lots are shown on that certain map entitled 'Map of Subdivision Number Two, Muir Woods Park', filed for record April 3, 1911 in Book 3 of Maps at Page 66, in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California."

Subject to: Current taxes, covenants, conditions, restrictions, reservations, rights, rights of way, easements and existing encumbrances of record.

The terms and conditions of sale are: Cash in lawful money of the United States of America to seller. Ten (10%) per cent of the amount bid to accompany the offer and the balance to be paid on confirmation of sale by the Court. Taxes, rents, operating and maintenance expenses, and premiums on insurance acceptable to the purchaser shall be prorated as of the date of confirmation of sale. The examination of title, recording of conveyance and any title insurance policy shall be at the expense of the purchaser.

All bids and offers must be in writing and will be received at the office of CORBETT, WELDEN, KANE & HARTMAN, attorneys for said administrator, at 465 California Street, Suite 1100, San Francisco, California, or may be filed with the Clerk of said Superior Court or delivered to said administrator personally, at any time after the first publication of this notice and before the making of said sale.

For further information and bid forms apply at the office of said attorneys for the administrator.

Inmates Given Computer Loan

WALTHAM, Mass (UPI)—A group of computer programmers among inmates at Walpole State Prison will receive a small computer on permanent loan from Honeywell Inc.

Edward C. Lund, vice president of the firm's North American computer operations, said Sunday the $55,000 computer would be delivered to the inmates around May 1.

The computer will be used by inmates trained in computer programming by Honeywell volunteers to teach other inmates computer programming and to do programming for various state agencies, Lund said.

Driver Is Hurt; Van Hits Fence

A San Rafael driver suffered minor injuries at 10:45 p.m. Friday when his light van hit a fence on a curve on Hicks Valley Road 1.3 miles west of Point Reyes Road, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The driver, Thomas Gow, 20, of 523 C Street, was taken to Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma, where he was treated for facial cuts and a cut lip.

The highway patrol reported a rash of five chain reaction collisions on the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway 101 in heavy fog that made the roadway wet and slippery during the homeward bound commute hours Friday. However, none of the motorists involved was injured seriously enough to go to a hospital.

Cynthia Ann Velasquez, 25, of 18 Rodeo Avenue, Sausalito, suffered facial cuts when her car hit a concrete abutment at the Lombard Street onramp to Doyle Drive near the southern end of the Golden Gate Bridge at 2:15 a.m. Saturday, the patrol reported. She was treated at Harbor Emergency Hospital in San Francisco.

You can be part of the Movement

There is a new movement in this country among people who want to do something—personally—about the problems that face us.

It's called ACTION. ACTION is Peace Corps. ACTION is VISTA. ACTION is Foster Grandparents. ACTION is the Service Corps of Retired Executives. All of these and more—committed to working together, face to face, where it really makes a difference. ACTION is over 25,000 Americans: college students and retired people, men and women, black and white, of all incomes, ages and from all walks of life.

Find out how you can be part of ACTION. Write ACTION, Washington, D. C. 20525.
